4,000 at Dortmund Stage Strike

Ruhr Miners Demand Food

ESSEN, March 29 —(AP) —Four Thousand Ruhr coal miners at Dortmund struck today in the latest German demonstration against short food rations.

IT WAS THE FIRST such action since unrest over the food situation developed several days ago.

Hunger strikes and marches by an estimated 500,000 persons have taken place here in the last two days and an angry demonstration occurred yesterday at Duesseldorf, where crowds upset and stoned British military vehicles.

There are approximately 250,000 coal miners in the Ruhr valley.

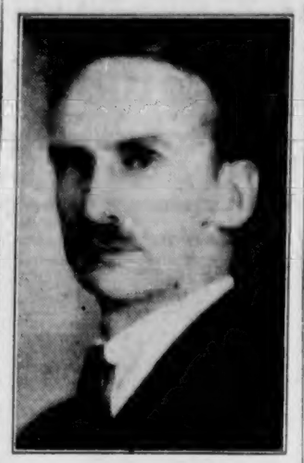

The north German control office here said four mines were affected by the Dortmund walkout.

The miners announced they would return to work Monday, but said that if no improvement in their food ration was seen by that time they would walk out again.

THE STRIKE occurred as other residents of Dortmund paraded the city's streets demanding more food.

The demonstrators, numbering about 2,000 sent deputations to both German and British municipal authorities demanding that the food ration of 1,550 calories a person a day be fulfilled.

They claimed they had been receiving hardly two-thirds of the official ration. The officials said they were hopeful more food would be available soon.

After April 1

Restrictions Off Ice Cream

OTTAWA, March 29—(CP) —After April 1 anyone can make as much ice cream, sherbet and process cheese as he wishes with the rescinding of three wartime orders of the dairy products board, the agriculture department said today.

Rescinding of the orders will also re-open the dairy products manufacturing field to newcomers who have been restricted from entering this industry for the last three to four years.

Although manufacturers will be required to report the amount of ice cream mix, sherbet mix and process of emulsified cheese produced in the quarter year ending March 31, their future output will be governed only by the demand for their product and the availability of raw supplies, the department said.

Also rescinded effective April 1 was the order prohibiting the addition of any milk, cream or other dairy product to ice cream mix or sherbet mix either prior to or at time of freezing.

Plan to Increase Minimum Wages

Increases in minimum wages in the province are under consideration, Hon. C.E. Gerhart, provincial minister of trades and industry said today. He said he was not able to discuss what form the changes would take.

MR. GERHART said that when the new labor legislation before the House came into effect a number of board orders concerning hours, wages industrial standards and other pertinent questions, would be necessary. The board of industrial relations was considering these matters in order to act on them as it became necessary.

Mr. Gerhart informed The Edmonton Bulletin that legislation empowering the board of industrial relations to make changes in hourly wage rates and hours of work, has been given third reading by the legislative assembly but has not as yet been given royal assent.

AS A RESULT the minister does not feel at liberty to dis-

Grand National Won By Caughoo

BY TOM WILLIAMS

AINTREE, England, March 29—(AP)—Caughoo won the 104th running of the Grand National steeplechase today. Lough Conn was second, Kami was third as the favored Prince Regent finished fourth—out of the money.

CAUGHOO IS an eight-year-old Irish horse and was listed as a rank outsider at 100 to 1 in the overnight odds. He is owned by J. J. McDowell of Ireland and was ridden by E. Dempsey. He was one of the lightweights in the field of 57—largest in 18 years—under 140 pounds.

Caughoo won by 20 lengths. He did not receive a call all the way on the two swings around the the four-mile, 856-yard course, and came out of the clouds to overhaul the leaders. Lough Conn had led most of the way.

By The Canadian Press

Russell Long, 38-year-old Toronto truck driver, with the nom-de-plume All So Ran held an Irish hospital sweepstakes ticket on Caughoo, winner of the Grand National steeplechase today, and stands to win a prize of £25,000 ($100,000). Another Canadian, with the nom-de-plume Bill, held a ticket on the second-place Lough Conn and is in line for a prize of $40,000. Two others—with the nom-de-plume Cab and Chaser—held tickets on Kami which ran third. Their probable price is $20,000 apiece.

New Flood Threat In East England

LONDON, March 29 (AP)— A new flood threat developed in eastern England near the mouth of the tidal Trent river today and authorities warned residents to be ready to evacuate. Elsewhere in flood-ravaged Britain, waters receded slowly from inundated cities and villages and thousands of acres of rich farm land. Relief operations were speeded.

City Fliers Get Lift on Cruiser

VICTORIA, March 29—(CP) —Two members of the RCAF, stationed at Edmonton, came home in style from a holiday in San Francisco.

They arrived here aboard HMCS Uganda, guests of Capt. Kenneth Adams, commander of the cruiser which has just completed a Pacific cruise.

At San Francisco, Capt. Adams spotted on the dock Flt.-Sgt. R. Davidson and Flt.-Sgt. G. Ellison, both on leave, gazing wistfully at the cruiser which was scheduled to leave for her home base.

Reading their thoughts, Capt. Adams barked out from the bridge: "I know what you want. Get aboard."

The airmen, with their kits, gleefully rushed for the gangplank.

B.C. to Amend Vehicle Act

VICTORIA, March 29 — (CP)— Use of highways in British Columbia would be denied to drivers and owners of motor vehicles, unable to pay damages for death, injury or property damage they may cause, under a bill to amend the motor vehicle act introduced in the Legislature here last night.

The measure reproduces all the major provisions of the highway saftey responsibility scheme in operating in Manitoba for more than a year.

IT PROVIDES for "grounding" of a driver and suspension of the vehicle license following any accident involving persons or property damage of more than $25 unless an edequate insurance card or proof of financial responsibility can be produced.

An unsatisfied judgement fund will be created to provide compensation for persons injured by insolvent drivers or owners.

Abbott Assails Conference Critics

OTTAWA, March 29—(CP)— Finance Minister Abbott declared to the Commons yesterday that he could see "no purpose" in calling a new Dominion - Provincial conference until other provinces indicate their willingness to enter into new financial agreements with the Dominion government.

IN AN ANGRY outburst that climaxed a brisk cross-fire with opposition members on Dominion-Provincial matters, Mr. Abbott snapped that he was "sick and tired" of hearing people talk about the "uncompromising" attitude of the Dominion.

All such talk was merely for "political purposes," he charged. The Dominion has made "concession after concession" at the two Dominion - Provincial conferences held thus far and anybody that denied it was not facing up to the facts.

Labor Govt. Doom Seen Before 1950

LONDON, March 29—(Reuters) —The Labor government is unlikely to survive until 1950, by which year another general election must be held, Oliver Lyttelton, former Conservative cabinet minister, predicted in a speech yesterday at Aldershot, Hampshire garrison town. He said the government had shown "bankruptcy" in foreign policy and contended Britain was losing prestige "because the hands that held the helm are nerveless and paralyzed."

Here's Answer To Income Tax

OTTAWA, March 29 —(CP) —Alongside Jean Francois Pouliot advocates of income tax reduction are pikers; he came up yesterday with an idea for eliminating that annoyance altogether.

The ebullient Temiscouata Independent Liberal's idea, as he explained it to the Commons, was simple. Just put a one-per-cent tax on Canada's $85,000,000,000 annual bank clearance.

This said Mr. Pouliot, would bring in $850,000,000 a year and relieve the taxpayers from making income tax reports at all. He asked Finance Minister Abbott to think it over.

Cries of "order" halted the rolly-polly member's further explanation. Philosophically he shrugged his shoulders referred any interested members to a series of articles on the subject he was doing for a French newspaper (Montreal Matin), and left the chamber with a shake of the head.

Used Car Ceiling Coming Off Soon

OTTAWA March 29 — (CP) — An informed Ottawa source said last night that price ceiling will be coming off used cars in Canada shortly, probably next month.

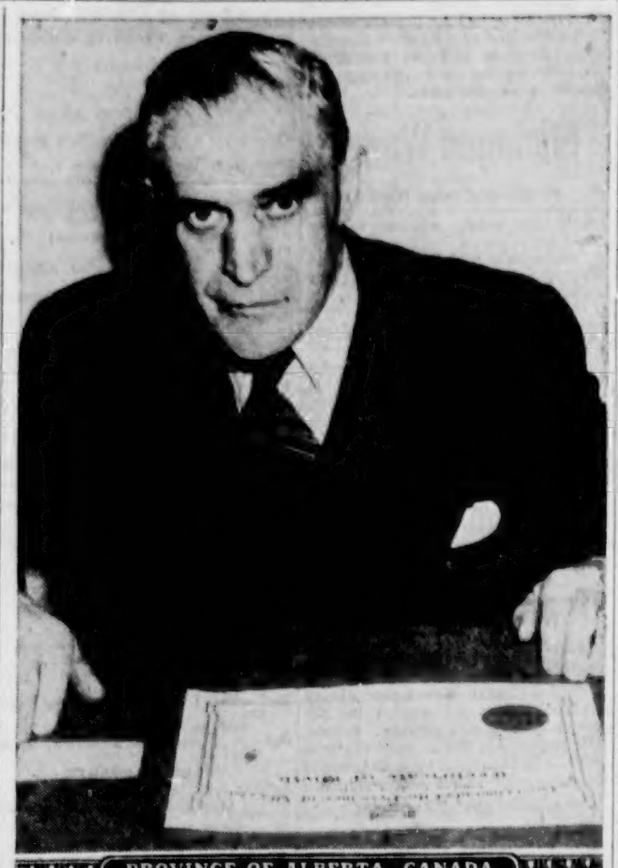

"THE NEARER new car production comes up to supplying the present demand, the less chance there is that ceiling prices on used cars will be retained," the spokesman said.

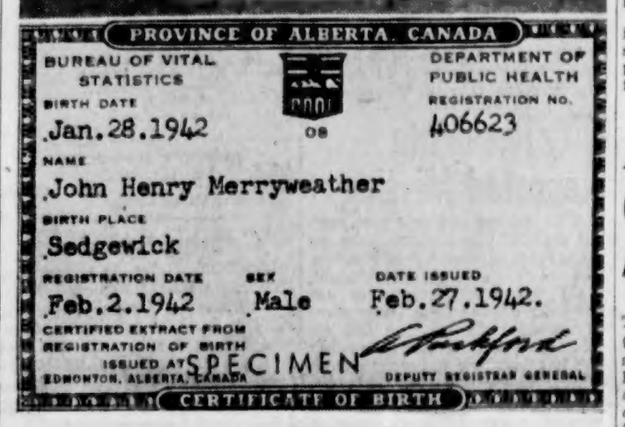

He declined to elaborate but his statement was taken as an indication that prices board officials are keeping a close watch on production of new cars in relation to the demand and that as soon as the relationship reaches a certain stage, the used car market will be thrown open as to price.

The statement was seen too, as an indication that the current rate of new car production might soon come within the area of demand so as to allow lifting of used car ceilings.

SHANGHAI, March 29.—(AP)— Fourteen pirates were charged by a Chinese Army tribunal today with seizing billions of Chinese dollars worth of cargo and killing more than 50 of the crew and passengers of small craft plying between Shanghai and the Yangtze estuary.

Cartier Vote on Monday

Communism Defeat In By-Election Urged

MONTREAL, March 29 —(CP)— While a group of Labor leaders made public last night an appeal to the workers of Cartier not to vote for Communism, the campaigning for Monday's ballotting was nearing its climax with close to a dozen political meetings planned for the week-end by the six candidates in the federal by-election.

Deputy Police Director Alfred Belanger said that extra police will be on duty Monday to maintain order during the by-election, called to elect a successor to jailed Communist Fred Rose.

More than 300 detectives and constables will be stationed in the district with scores of radio cars patrolling throughout the day.

The appeal to the workers of the division came in the form of a joint statement by eight Montreal labor leaders which called for the "defeat of Communism" in the by-election, saying that its doctrine is opposed to political, economic and social rights" of the individual.

In a radio address in favor of Maurice Hartt, official Liberal, Defence Minister Claxton called on the electors to support Mr. Hartt as a move against Communism,

Salary Increases To Be Continued

OTTAWA, March 29—(CP) — Annual salary increases which have been granted civil servants in Ottawa since April, 1943 under wartime legislation will be continued, Finance Minister Abbott announced Friday.

TEMPORARY EMPLOYES earning less than $2,199 annually have received increases under the order since its inception, but the emergency powers act authorizing the increases is due to expire March 31.

However, the Civil Service Commission has been instructed to make the necessary amendments to its regulations permitting the increases to continue. Approximately 50,000 federal civil servants, 20,000 of them in Ottawa, are affected by the move.

Won't Use Atom Bomb First

Fears Most Americans Dead Inside Five Years

WASHINGTON, March 29—(AP) — Former diplomat George H. Earle told Congress yesterday: "I don't believe there is better than an even chance that 10 per cent of us Americans will be alive five years from now."

The reason for this pessimism, he said, is that Americans are so "charitable" that they won't use the atom bomb first.

Earle called Russia the "terrible menace."

He gave his testimony to the House of Representatives committee on un-American activities at hearings on bills to outlaw the Communist party in the United States.

He recommended that the United States "immediately use the atomic bomb" against any country that refuses to permit inspection of atomic plants. But he said "the American people wouldn't stand for it."

So, he said, the United States should "try to hold the Russians" by perfecting and hiding "the most terrible weapons of destruction."

Then, he said, the United States should "let them know that at the first atom bomb that explodes here, we will destroy every city in Russia."

Earle has been United States minister to Austria and to Bulgaria, a naval officer and an undercover agent for the President in Turkey during the war.

To Come to Grips Monday With Heart of Problem

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

MOSCOW, March 29 —(AP)— The council of foreign ministers agreed today to come to grips Monday with the heart of the German problem. They will try then to reach a compromise on reparations and economic unity. In a one-hour session, the shortest of this conference, the ministers agreed on a schedule for the German discussions and set up a special committee to attempt to draw up a directive on the lesser problems of the report of the Allied control Council for Germany.

THE AGREED agenda for Monday, summing up three weeks of proposals made thus far, was:

1. Germany as an economic unit, including reparations; plus a review of the levels of industry, including industrial demilitarization.

2. The form and scope of a provisional German government.

Meanwhile the deputies of the four-power council approved a report of progress on the Austrian peace treaty which showed that of 55 proposed articles for the treaty, only 24 had been agreed.

MOSCOW, March 29—(BUP) —British Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin asked the Big Four today to demand the return to Germany by Dec. 31, 1948 of all German prisoners of war still held by the Allies.

The three major open questions on the treaty are the issues of German assets, frontiers, and compensation to United Nations from property losses due to the war.

IN THE MEETING of the deputies on Germany, meanwhile, a spokesman for the small western powers entitled to reparations from Germany charged that the big

Ottawa to Control Alaska Telephone

OTTAWA, March 29 — (CP) — The 2,000-mile, war-built Edmonton-to-Fairbanks telephone-telegraph system will be taken over by the Department of Transport April 1, opening commercial land telephone communication to Alaska for the first time, a department spokesman said last night.

THE DEPARTMENT is taking over from the RCAF and has appointed the government-owned Canadian National Telegraph Company as its operating agents.

The spokesman said a complete telephone circuit from Alaska connecting with the telephone network of the United States had been leased to the United States government for commercial purposes.

In addition lines will be allotted for weather circuits, airports, air traffic control and to private airlines on a lease basis. It is expected Canadian National Telegraphs will have some 125 men manning the system.

ONE OF THE LONGEST open-wire telephone and telegraph systems in the world, it comprises some 14 circuits with repeater stations established throughout the Northwest and along the route of the Alaska Highway, which it follows most of the way.

Built in conjunction with the Highway when the Japanese threat to the Alaska panhandle was at its height, the system was completed by U. S. contractors and army engineers Nov. 3, 1943. It was turned over to the RCAF last year.

Ask UN Session On Palestine

LONDON, March 29—(AP) — A foreign office spokesman said today Britain will ask immediately for a special session of the United Nations assembly to consider the problem of the Palestine mandate.

SIR ALEXANDER Cadogan, permanent British representative to the United Nations, has been authorized to make the formal request, the spokesman said.

"It is within the latitude of his instructions to take the step at once," he added. "He may act today, but formalities involved may not be completed until next week."

Say Infant Dies Of Suffocation

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Watson, Provost, was found dead in bed Friday morning, according to RCMP. The district coroner said the child died as a result of accidental suffocation and no inquest will be necessary.

The report stated that Mrs. Watson put the 14-day-old child to sleep in a bassinette about 10 a.m. and when she went to attend the child at 11 she found the baby dead.

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 29. — (AP)—Two-year-old Nancy Irene Robles has been released from hospital here after treatment for burns in which doctors grafted skin from an identical twin sister killed in the fire that destroyed their home. Drumheller Gets Permission

Assembly Denies City Daylight Saving Time

Edmonton's hopes for daylight saving time this summer received a final blow in the Legislature Friday afternoon as sittings came to a close.

WHEN THE legislators reassembled for an evening sitting, they extended to the city of Drumheller the right which had been denied to Edmonton that afternoon.

When daylight saving was under consideration by the Legislature's committee on municipal law, the committee deleted a clause which would have given Edmonton's city council the right to depart from standard time.

On the previous day the committee had allowed a similar clause to remain in the bill to amend the Drumheller charter. No debate took place at that time.

Last chance to re-insert the contentious clause in the Edmonton charter came Friday afternoon when Dr. J. L. Robinson (SC—Medicine Hat) moved that Edmonton be granted the right to daylight saving.

Arguments were heard from farmer members that adoption of daylight saving time would make for confusion and difficulty among farmers. City representatives said the principles of city autonomy should be observed.

The motion was declared lost by a standinig vote by 30 to 16.

In the evening, when the committee was considering amendments to the Drumheller charter, Hon. R. Earl Ansley, minister of education, moved the clause giving Drumheller permission to establish its own time be struck out.

Drumheller retained the right to adopt daylight saving by a standing vote by 30-16.

Mayor Tells Meeting

Sees Hope For Daylight Saving

Edmonton may get daylight saving time this summer despite the action of the Legislature Friday in declining to give the city an amendment to its charter empowering institution of "summer time."

MAYOR HARRY Ainlay told delegates to the Civic Democratic Alliance annual meeting held Friday at All Saints' Parish hall that "if Edmontonians are as obedient as the citizens of Toronto, it would be possible to have daylight saving time in Edmonton this year."

"I can issue a proclamation that Edmonton will go on daylight saving time for a certain date, but can't enforce it," Mayor Ainlay stated.

"THE MAYOR of Toronto has been doing it for years and the people there obey him. I don't know what might happen here."

"This is a good chance to find out, Harry," one of the delegates shouted.

"It is the only way we can get daylight saving time this year," Mayor Ainlay replied.

Several Trapped

Floods In Sask. Spread Northward

SASKATOON, March 29—(CP) —One man was trapped precariously in a tree today as flood waters which already had more than 40,000 acres in central Saskatchewan under water spread northward to the Prince Albert region.

ATTEMPTS BY RCMP officials to rescue Alex Irvin, trapped in a tree on an island about 22 miles south of Prince Albert when the South Saskatchewan river continued to rise, were hampered by an ice jam between the mainland and the island.

Their efforts were finally successful, however, according to a late report.

Three other persons were said to be in a truck on a submerged highway.

Reaching a high at 1 a.m. today the waters of the South Saskatchewan flooded the flats along the Prince Albert region countryside for 1½ miles inland and covered a mile of the highway, the water in low spots reaching a depth of 10 feet.

AN ICE JAM under the combined railway-automobile bridge at St. Louis, 22 miles south of Prince Albert, sent a rush of water and ice further down the river, jamming up again among the islands in the Red Deer Hill district.

In central Saskatchewan, meanwhile, there were no reports today of new inroads made by the floods. The water level was believed to be receding slightly, but families evacuated from riverside homes were as yet unable to return.

Suggests Tories Prepare for Vote

OTTAWA, March 29 (CP)—John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader, thinks there might be a federal election anytime—and then again there might not. The Commons opposition leader, in the course of a speech to the annual banquet of the Progressive Conservative Association of Canada last night, dealt briefly with the prospects of an election. And this is what he said: "If it (the government) could trump up a favorable issue it would go to the country any time. The prime minister turned the key in the lock of Parliament without any excuse in 1940. What was done before could be done again."

which he termed the big issue in the election.

"Communists are the same everywhere," said the minister, "they take their orders from Russia. They serve the interests of a foreign power, not their own country."

Claims Irregularities In Cartier Election

OTTAWA, March 29 (CP)—Maxime Raymond, the tall, slight leader of the two-man Bloc Populaire party, on the floor of the Commons yesterday fought for—and won—his right as a private member to discuss "irregularities" which he said were depriving 1,500 people of their vote in Monday's Montreal Cartier by-election.

THE SOFT-SPOKEN French-Canadian member from Beauharnois-Laprairie, supported by members of all parties, touched off an unruly, angry scene in which the Speaker once said he might, with regret, have to apply his "sanction"—presumably banishment of a member from the chamber—if order was not restored.

The Speaker's statement was directed at no individual member.

A roar of protesting "No's" and cat-calls punctuated the proceedings of the house as the speaker, Dr. Gaspard Fauteux, and later the committee chairman, Ross Macdonald ruled against Mr. Raymond's efforts first at the house opening and later at committee stage to discuss the by-election.

Mr. Raymond finally got the floor when the committee began considering interim supply and Finance Minister Abbott, shouting to make himself heard above the din, suggested there was an item before the house on which Mr. Raymond could have his say.

MR. RAYMOND said 1,500 voters had been deprived of their franchise in the by-election because of irregularities which led to their names being removed from the voting lists.

He held the government "responsible" because it paid the salaries of returning officers.

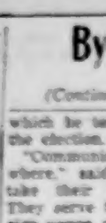

OTTAWA, March 29 (CP)—Jules Castonguay, chief electoral officer, said last night he had received no official complaint about reported "irregularities" in Monday's Montreal Cartier by-election March 11 and did not plan to make an investigation. He was commenting on a charge made in the Commons Friday by Maxime Raymond (BP-Beauharnois-Laprairie) that irregularities had resulted in 1,500 persons being left off the by-election voting lists.

To Launch Drive For Higher Wages

TORONTO, March 29—(CP)—A drive for increased wages was announced today by George Burt, Canadian director of the United Automobile, Aircraft and Agricultural Implement Workers of America (CIO), to 40 delegates to the Canadian council of the union at their quarterly meeting here.

MR. BURT SAID hourly wages would have to be increased this year because of the "continuing decline in real wages." This decline "means that wages will have to be increased if the living standards of our workers are not to be worsened."

"Forthright action is necessary to halt rising prices if we are not to be plunged into another depression. Reports will be presented to you showing that industry can afford to pay increases."

Minimum Wages

close the exact nature of the changes.

"Particulars will be made public after the order-in-council has been signed," he said.

Speculation concerning the changes, which Mr. Gerbart did not confirm are as follows:

THAT MINIMUM WAGES in the class of men between 19 and 21 would be raised from 45 cents an hour to 55 cents an hour and from $20 a week to $25 a week. Female minimum wages would be raised from 35 cents an hour to 42 cents an hour with weekly wages raised from $15 to $18 a week. Other hourly increases for males would be 45 to 50 cents for 18-19 years and 49 to 45 for 17-18 years.

Alliance Names Slate Officers

Delegates to the annual meeting of the Civic Democratic Alliance unanimously elected Floyd A. Johnson, Edmonton contractor, president for 1940 at a meeting held Friday night at All Saints parish hall. He succeeds Archie Allen, who has held the presidency of the organization since its inception more than two years ago.

OTHER OFFICERS elected were: first vice-president Charles Gilbert; second vice-president Thomas Roberts; treasurer, Gordon Clark; executive members Norman P. Finnemore and Percy Gwynne.

It was agreed on the motion of Mayor Harry Ainlay that the executive select its secretary. Approximately 30 persons attended.

Mayor Ainlay was questioned at length regarding civic operations, the vast majority of the questions were from delegates seeking information on different phases of civic administration.

DR. J. L. MORRISON, elected by the organization last year to the school board, outlined the work done by CDA trustees, and intimated there might be some concessions made by the board relative to free text books in schools.

Mrs. E. S. Haynes, school trustee, and Ald. J. B. Gillies were unable to attend the meeting.

MAYOR AINLAY said he was not in favor of the present assessment system. He was of the opinion the assessment should be 100 per cent, and not 50 and 60 per cent as at present. The latter, he added, was a hangover from the old single tax days.

By ROSS MUNRO

MOSCOW, March 29 — (CP) — This is gloomy talk but there's a mighty gloomy atmosphere pervading among delegations at the foreign ministers' conference today which cannot be disguised.

THE USUAL face-saving devices are likely to be used to prevent this conference being labelled a failure if this current trend continues but unless there is a sudden outburst of agreement on at least some subjects which really count, the council can do little more than finish talk-fests by the middle of April, and turn the big problems over to committees of experts who will tackle them again under the direction of the deputies.

The council, if this happens — as is quite probable—would have to meet again in two or three months and start all over.

Nothing could be done in the interval about drafting the German treaty.

Major and Minor Notes

By John Oliver

Fifth and final concert of the Edmonton Philharmonic orchestra's third season will take place at the Strand theatre at 9:00 p.m. tomorrow. Abe Fratkin will conduct and the assisting artist will be Ray Perraton, baritone. This has been an unusually successful season for the orchestra. The size of the audiences has been limited only by the capacity of the theatre. While the majority of the patrons have been Edmontonians many have come from the surrounding district, driving in by automobile, train or bus. Some have come from points 100 miles away. In addition to the regular series of five concerts, the orchestra gave one special "symphony for students" under the sponsorship of the Women's Musical club. A light program, more popular in its make-up than that of a regular symphony was played. It was a splendid success and already plans are on foot to repeat next season. Many new works were added to the repertoire, including Dvorak's Symphony No. 5 in E Minor.

John Oliver

During the season the following soloists have appeared: Berneice McBeth, soprano; Norma Madill, contralto; Noreen Bristow, soprano and Frank Williams, baritone.

The final program is as follows: overture to the opera "Don Giovanni," Mozart; Symphony No. 5 in C Minor, Beethoven; Racoczy March, Berlios; Slavonic Dance No. 10 in E Minor, Dvorak; On the Steppes of Central Asia, Borodin and the overture to the opera "Sicilian Vespers," Verdi.

Mr. Perraton will sing the aria Largo al Factotum from Rossini's "Barber of Seville," and Oley Speaks' setting of Rudyard Kipling's On the Road to Mandalay. Although Mr. Perraton is rated as one of this city's most accomplished vocalists, his solo appearances in public have been few. This has been due, mainly to the fact that his work, as a member of the Northern Alberta Railways staff, usually keeps him away from the city during the week, and he is here only at the week-ends.

Nevertheless he manages to keep up his singing, of which he is extremely fond. He has taken part in several Edmonton Civic Opera society productions, and is a member of a musical family.

It is a hopeful sign for future orchestral development here, that schools are becoming more active in the formation and development of orchestras. While one does not expect them to be of symphonic size and calibre it is to these small, enterprising and assiduous organizations that the larger groups must look in the future for player-material. This writer recently heard the orchestra—and glee club—at Eastwood high school and some very good work is being done there. A few nights ago at the opening of the lunch bar at Queen Alexandra school a concert was given by the Edmonton String orchestra, conducted by Bernt Owren and sponsored by the Queen Alexandra Home and School association.

Members of the orchestra range from nine to 17 years old. Dr. Roy L. Anderson is honorary president of the orchestra and Roderick Roland is accompanist. At the recent concert, Terry Anderson, flute player in the orchestra was a soloist, as was Mrs. Marion Greenough, soprano, with Velma Owren at the piano.

Members of the orchestra are as follows:

First violins, Lois Turner, Patricia Morton, Ronald Dougan, Donald Evoy, Annie Chrisensen, Allan Provost, Josephine Watts, Doreen Wallbank, Madge Bruce, Charles Clark; second violins, Joyce Roland, Joan Bryant, Joyce Muller, Shirley Mansfield, Russell Baker, Dick Guntrip, Keith Hansen, Clayton Kobie; clarinets, Robert Turner and Fred Rankine; flute, Terry Anderson; bass, Roger Deegan; accompanist, Roderick Roland.

Last week in this column, a definite commitment was made to share with readers, the annual letter received from Fred M. Gee, Winnipeg impressario, who co-operates with the Women's Musical Club in bringing the Celebrity Concert Series here. Mr. Gee's letter, as usual, is interesting, but it gives absolutely no hint, or insight, into what is in store for music lovers in next year's Celebrity Series.

Always with an eye—and ear—to new pianists, Mr. Gee was impressed with Yara Bernette, young Brazilian pianist. She tried a New York recital in 1941, but failed to make an impression on the public, even though she was well received by the press.

Ray Perraton, baritone, who will be the soloist at the fifth and final concert of the season by the Edmonton Philharmonic orchestra, at the Strand theatre at 9:00 p.m. Sunday. He will sing the aria Largo al Factotum from "The Barber of Seville," and the song On the Road to Mandalay.

She tried again last fall, and made such a hit, that she cannot accept all the engagements offered.

In the vocal field, Mr. Gee was most impressed by a new Italian tenor, Ferruccio Tagliavini. "Such scenes as have occurred at the Met' when this 33-year-old tenor sings, have not been duplicated since the days of the great Enrico Caruso," said Mr. Gee. Talking of his singing in "La Boheme," Mr. Gee said, "Tagliavini literally stopped the show not once but many times. And he deserves it all—I have never heard more beautiful singing."

Some remarks on the subject of orchestras are worthwhile. He had a talk with Mishel Piastro, great violinist and teacher, and former concertmaster of the New York Philharmonic Symphony orchestra and learned of many of the difficulties attendant upon obtaining first class players, specially wood-wind and brass. Mr. Gee was specially interested, because there is a movement on foot in Winnipeg to form a symphony. He was told that the annual budget for the Toronto Symphony orchestra is about $260,000, of which $160,000 is taken in salaries and wages of players and conductor as well as executive staff. The annual budget for such an organization as the New York Philharmonic is two or three times that of Toronto.

As is the case everywhere, living costs are on the ascendant in New York. He recalls that he used to pay 40 cents for the same haircut that now costs him 50 cents in Winnipeg. But in New York, a haircut that didn't seem to be any better than he receives on Main Street, or Portage ave., nicked him for a cool 90 cents.

On the subject of concert artists, and their opportunities, he says, "Knowing the situation from the New York managerial view point, one would say that there are far too many brilliant young artists, especially pianists and violinists seeking engagements. Some are Americans and Canadians, others are coming here from South America, and more are flocikng over from Europe now that the war is over.

"The field is undoubtedly overcrowded and there are many greatly gifted artists who have little hope of securing sufficient engagements to enable them to live on their own artistic efforts."

Mrs. F. W. Mills, who took over the office of president of the Women's Musical Club at the annual meeting recently in the Masonic temple. She succeeds Mrs. H. S. Craig. Mrs. Mills has been vice-president for the last two years, and for several years before that, was a member of the executive.

He attended the New York debut of Donna Greacoe, Winnipeg violinist, and pupil of Piastro and also he heard Zara Nelsova, former Winnipeg cellist, in an audition for a concert agency—and he played her accompaniments.

He met a 75-year-old Russian, Nicolai Aviorino, who had been a friend of the Tchaikovsky family. Peter Ilich had been largely instrumental in his being admitted to the Moscow Conservatory, where he numbered among his fellow-students, Rachmaninoff, Scriabine and others. Tchaikovsky enlisted his aid in marking bowings and fingerings for the string parts of his immortal Pathetique Symphony. He described the mighty composer as "one of the kindliest of men."

* * *

In celebration of his 35th year as a concert manager, Mr. Gee was soloist with the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra recently, in Winnipeg, in a performance of MacDowell's Piano Concerto No. 2. Evidently the passing years have not detracted from Mr. Gee's ability, as accounts to hand of the performance indicate that he played brilliantly and artistically.

* * *

If Mr. Gee's communication cast no light on next season's Celebrity Series, there's a feeling in the air that it will not be long before full information is available. Mrs. Ernest Meaden, Edmonton manager of the series, has concluded her negotiations with Mr. Gee and soon after her return, toward the middle of April, she is expected to announce her negotiations with Mr. Gee and soon after her return, toward the middle of April, she is expected to announce names of artists.

At present she is visiting relatives in Toronto. Latest reports are that she has attended several concerts, at one of which, Robert Schmitz, French pianist, played the Cesar Franck variations with the Toronto Symphony Orchestra. This she enthused over, but of a modern concerto on the same program she said, "pretty awful to listen to." She has met Kathleen Busby and Hazel Taylor, both former Edmontonians, now living in Toronto, and conferred with them on various matters musical.

* * *

Latest reports from the stage of the Edmonton Civic Opera society are that rehearsals of "The Prince of Pilsen" are moving toward a climax. Production is scheduled April 16 to 19 inclusive at the Strand theatre. Preliminary work by sections has been completed and principals, chorus and orchestra are polishing up ready for the home stretch drive. Mrs. J. B. Carmichael, musical director has expressed herself as pleased with the manner in which the company has taken hold of the work as a whole, and she said that with many fine opportunities for chorus work, including the famous Heidelberg stein song, patrons would hear some of the best singing in history of the society.

* * *

Already drafting programs for next season, Mrs. F. W. Mills, president of the Women's Musical club said that in the club's regular schedule of concerts there would be two of the young artist series, sponsored by the Alberta Music Teachers association. One would be in the fall and the other toward the end of the season. There would be two young artists at the first concert and one at the second.

Nelda Faulkner, pianist, and Shirley Neher, soprano, of this city, toured western Canada in a young artist series two years ago. They met with widespread success, being well received at many points from Winnipeg to Vancouver. Such tours are designed to give young artists experience in public appearances, and also to let the public know something of the excellent talent available in this part of the country.

The Average Man's Pension

A bill providing for pensions up to $3,000 for Alberta civil servants has been tabled in the legislature. It provides also for gratuities up to $1,500 to be paid to widows of civil servants who may die before the retirement age of 65 years.

It is an excellent plan and should have the warm support of Alberta people.

Also excellent and commendable is the pension system that applies to employes of the city of Edmonton. In fact, retirement allowances made to the employes of nearly all governmental bodies in Canada are generous. It is a tendency, in general, which is socially and economically sound.

These pension systems are contributory. That is to say the employe puts in a certain percentage of his salary, five per cent in Alberta's case, and the employer makes up the balance.

Of course, the employer in the cases of governing bodies is the public. The man who makes all these excellent pension plans possible is the ordinary Tom, Dick and Harry who pays taxes.

The man in the street, in other words, foots the bill. But it should not be thought that he begrudges it. Probably not ten per cent of the taxpayers of Canada are opposed to civil servants and others getting these well-earned and highly-deserved retirement allowances.

But it does seem odd that there is such a marked discrepancy between the retirement allowances which the average man makes possible for governmental employes and the retirement allowance the average man is able to get for himself.

The Alberta civil servant, very properly, will get up to $3,000 a year as a pension at the age of 65.

The Alberta taxpayer, who makes this pension possible, can get $30 a month at the age of 70—if he is without means of support.

There would seem to be something wrong somewhere.

Where Was the UNO?

The United Nations Trusteeship Council got away to a poor start at its first meeting. No Russian delegate turned up. And Mr. Trygve Lie restrainedly rebuked the United States for "by-passing" the United Nations in its proposal to aid Greece and Turkey.

Absence of a Russian representative seems to have caused no surprise, it being Moscow's right and also its custom to overlook the claims of courtesy where it does not approve of something that has been done.

Mr. Lie's complaint invites attention as to the competence of the United Nations to act in the circumstances. In what part of the world has the United Nations organization intervened to check Communist aggression? Or what ground is there to suppose it either would or could intervene in the Levant?

If Greece is to avoid collapse it must have economic help without delay, to the estimated amount of $400,000,000. The United Nations organization has no such amount at its disposal, nor any considerable fraction of the sum, assuming that it would be willing to make the loan. As to Turkey, does anybody imagine Moscow would stop making demands for control of the Dardanelles just because Mr. Lie wrote Mr. Stalin a letter?

It is the United Nations organization—not the United States—that is on the spot. Nobody heard anything about the organizating taking any action in the Levant until Mr. Truman asked Congress to let him do so. Mr. Lie should explain why, if he wants to blame the United States for assuming the responsibility. So far as the reading and listening public are aware he didn't know that there was any need for intervention until President Truman made his speech on the subject.

A Case in Point

Mr. Bracken having caught a cold, it fell to Mr. Gordon Graydon to read a radio broadcast prepared by his leader. The substance of the address was that the Mackenzie King government is pursuing centralizing policies which are undermining the "democratic way of life" and would eventually result in a totalitarian state.

State ownership and state control trends, wrote Mr. Bracken, have but one aim; "To achieve power by underminng public confidence in democratic institutions and in what we have come to understand as the democratic way of life."

The outstanding instance of the government having suspended private enterprise and substituted state control is that it closed the Winnipeg grain exchange so far as trading in wheat is concerned and set up the Wheat Board as the sole agent for selling Canadian wheat in outside markets.

Does Mr. Bracken want the Wheat Board abolished and private trading and speculation in wheat restored?

Palm Sunday

Tomorrow is Palm Sunday. It commemorates the occasion on which our Lord entered Jerusalem—to be crucified at the demand of the people six days later.

It will be recalled that when He rode into the city on Palm Sunday, He was received with the wildest acclaim. The people applauded and sang before Him. They strewed palm leaves in His path.

Indeed, just six days before He was rejected of the world, the world paid Him its warmest compliments.

This is not the deepest significance of Palm Sunday, by any means. But it is worth considering how closely this procedure is frequently paralleled in the lives of ordinary men.

Men trust in the supposed security afforded by the applause of their fellows. And yet, just when that applause seems to be the most fervent, one may become a victim of the world's caprice. The higher a man climbs in the esteem of men, the more disastrous may be his fall.

For the favors of the world are fleeting. Nothing is more ephemeral than the honors man gives to man.

Only the favor of God is substantial. Only the smile of God endures.

After riding into Jerusalem in triumph, six days later the Saviour of Men was dying on a Cross.

"Just why," observes The Windsor Star, "round bottles have remained in use so long is something of a mystery." But have they? What about "old squareface?"

The Financial Post, whose writers are perhaps more familiar with Dow's averages than with Shakespeare, speaks of "gilding the lily." Still, if we remember rightly, what Shakespeare wrote was "to paint the lily."

THE THRILL THAT COMES ONCE IN A LIFETIME -:- by Webster

Can We Be Saved?

BY ELMORE PHILPOTT

A reader writes in amazement that "an old warhorse" like me can express admiration for "a pacifist like Lew Ayres."

"Can it be that, after fighting in one world war yourself, and going back and forward across this continent to encourage others to do so in another, at last you see the light?" So says another.

Let me answer this way: I spent a couple of weeks last summer at a so-called school of religion in the foothills of the Rockies. I met some grand Christian people there — preachers from country churches — youngsters from prairie towns combining a holiday with improvement of their minds. I was surprised to find, when I got there to lecture, that the majority of them were anti-war.

PHILPOTT

They had Scott Nearing as the other lecturer, and we had some rare old set-tos. For Scott is like an old testament prophet. His theme, "Flee from the wrath to come." He thinks that atomic war will leave the world a shambles—that if it is rebuilt at all it will be by little groups who hide out from conflict—like Noah wisely did from the flood.

* * *

MY ANSWER was—stay right where you are and fight for what you think is right with the best weapons you can lay your hands on.

I argued that—even if Nearing was right, which I do not concede—there is no sense in the comparison with Noah. Noah had a ship competent to carry him through the flood. Who knows of a hide-out today that will save people from atomic energy, from arsenic dust which can wipe out whole peoples—from germ warfare?

One of the Protestant ministers asked me a question after one friendly argument. I had shown that even Jesus himself had used force, when he took a whip, upset the tables, and chased out the international money changers from the temple in Jerusalem. My questioner asked quietly, when we were alone, "Did you ever think that even Jesus could have made a mistake when he did that?"

Certainly it was a mistake on the human level—for in three days the carpenter's son from Galilee found himself executed on a cross.

* * *

THE MORE I thought about the life and teachings of Jesus Christ the more I was convinced that the human family can only save itself by doing what Jesus taught us and showed us to do.

That flashed through my mind with crystal clarity when listening to senator Austin. It was the first time I had seen the key Steering Committee of the United Nations in action. Austin was trying to show that they would only go round in vicious circles if they tried to re-hash all the old arguments that had led to deadlocks.

"It's not who is wrong, but what is wrong," he put in.

* * *

I NEVER COULD accept the teachings of Jesus when I was a boy. When I read that if somebody hit you on one cheek, give him the chance to do that to the other, too—that seemed to me the silliest kind of nonsense. If some boy socked me on one cheek I would do my best to sock him on both cheeks, on the jaw, and in the solar plexus for good measure.

But after a lifetime spent so far either in war, or in public controversies of one kind or another, I begin to get it.

What Jesus was teaching humanity was that the positive is always stronger than the negative. Indeed, I would say that "positivist" and not "pacifist was an accurate description for all Jesus taught.

The false "pacifism" which cursed the world between the two world wars was wrong. False teachers (like Beverley Nicholls in the best seller, "Cry Havoc") were in favor of such things as letting the Japanese have Australia.

The difference between the positivism taught and lived by Jesus and such false pacifism is that false pacifism teaches mere surrender to evil—"peace" by letting Hitler take Europe. True positivism says, on the contrary, beat evil with something stronger than evil. It says that friendships are stronger than warships—that ideas which draw mankind together are mightier than atomic bombs which can split the earth apart.

Words That Have Meaning

BY DOROTHY THOMPSON

Mr. Marshall's statement to the Council of Foreign Ministers in Moscow, setting forth his views on the future political structure of Germany, restored what has long been lacking from international conferences: namely, exactitude of expression.

Mr. Marshall uses words to convey meanings, not to obscure them.

THOMPSON

The mind that formulated the proposals of the United States delegates so crisply that they are contained in a thousand words or less reveals itself as orderly, candid, and precise. One needs but compare the Marshall statement with those of Teheran, Yalta, Potsdam, or even with the preamble to the San Francisco charter, to see the difference between fuzziness and clarity.

For that matter, one need but compare Mr. Marshall's statement with that of Mr. Molotov, made at the same time, to see the enormous difference between two minds and two cultures. Mr. Marshall says exactly what he means, and nobody can possibly misinterpret him. Content and form are perfectly fused and, thereby, the English language, at least, is rehabilitated.

* * *

MR. MARSHALL has restored style to public documents. Style has been singularly lacking, not only from statesmanship, during the war and post-war periods. Words like "peaceloving" and "democratic" have been liberally sprinkled into every policy statement, their meaning reserved for anybody's interpretation. The results have been disastrous. In Mr. Marshall, at long last, we have a leader whose statements we can read with pleasure.

Mr. Molotov continues to speak in the peculiar hobbie-gobble jargon of Communist idiom, which has hitherto seemed infectious. Soviet words are deliberately designed to convey at least two meanings—one to the "International Communist Church," well-versed in interpreting Communist cabalism — and the other to the trusting innocents outside. The Yalta declaration, a statement of incredible sloppiness leaving all the "I's" undotted and "T's" uncrossed, thus conveyed to the world Communist-movement the news that the Soviets had triumphed and the Lublin camarilla made certain of tenure. Meanwhile, everyone else took comfort in the promise of "democratic" elections which might reverse or modify the coup de force.

Mr. Marshall, however, in demanding a democratic German state defines in six points exactly what he means by such a state. Had Yalta been as precise in definitions, the recent elections would have had to be cancelled by the U.N.

* * *

(1) ALL POLITICAL power is recognized as originating in the people.

(2) . . . popular elections held at frequent intervals. . . .

(3) . . . conducted under conditions in which freely competing parties submit programs and candidates.

(4) . . . political parties . . . voluntary associations of citizens . . . no party enjoys any privileged status.

(5) . . . basic rights of free speech, freedom of religion, assembly, association . . . guaranteed.

(6) Individuals protected against arbitrary arrest, search and seizure . . . equality under law.

In point six, Mr. Marshall — for the first time in any post-war document, and including the four freedoms — seeks to re-establish the primary and most important of all freedoms, namely habeas corpus—security from arbitrary arrest. There is all the difference between Mr. Marshall's statement and "freedom from fear." It is the difference between clarity and ambiguity; between a specific pledge and a utopian promise; between saying what you mean and hoping that events will give the "correct" interpretation to a pious hope.

* * *

IF MR. MARSHALL'S longed-for lucidity is that of a military mind, thank heaven for some qualities of that mind.

When the military mind designs and orders an operation to achieve an objective, it dare not describe it in terms open to a dozen interpretations by the commander. In matters of life or death, meanings must be crystalline. But peace is also a matter of life or death; the fate of frantic millions hangs on the meaning of words.

Let the words, therefore, be honest, clean, limpid, candid, factual, committal, affirmative, civilized.

And down with weasel words, shaded meanings, noncommittal.

Down with adjectives that destroy the noun, and adverbs which disarm the verb. Down with the language of conspiracy, obscurantist, cabalistic. Down with the destroyer words; the undermining words; the words that make an anarchy of language.

Propaganda and Facts

Winnipeg Free Press

The Palestine problem is sufficiently complex without being made still more difficult by Zionist propaganda. Yet Winnipeg citizens have recently been treated to another example of argument based upon an incomplete statement of the facts. A Zionist visitor from Britain, Mrs. Barnett Janner, said in an interview last Thursday:

The White Paper on Palestine contrary to the Mandate, encouraged the Arabs and cut down on Jewish immigration, and as far as the old League of Nations was concerned it was an illegal document. Only the British government accepted it as legal.

This charge of "illegality" has become, through constant use, one of the consecrated slogans of Zionism. Its relation to reality is, however, tenuous in the extreme.

A Good Risk

Montreal Financial Times

Wise stock market operators know that there are some few issues that never should be sold short. Because of certain qualities in their physical and technical background, they have recuperative powers which render a short sale at any time a dangerous venture. For the same reasons, shrewd people today will think twice before they sell Britain short.

Discrimination

Vancouver News-Herald

We hope the time is coming in BC when Canadians with colored skins will be accepted in our professions on an equal basis with citizens whose skins are white. At the moment, BC Canadians who haven't white skins, with one or two exceptions, such as nursing, find the door into the profesions banged shut in their faces.

The Tax Burden

BY HARPER PROWSE, MLA

The Dominion budget this year calls for expenditures totalling approximately $2,000,000,000 which is just about four times as much as was spent in any of the pre-war years. While some of this expenditure is a carry-over from the war much of it is the result of new legislation and an increase in our debt charges. And with the great demand for the government to increase old age pensions and institute health services it is doubtful if we can expect our national expenditures to drop much below this year's figure in the future.

The government will raise about one half of the money it needs from income taxes. The rest comes from customs, excise and other indirect taxation sources. In view of the constant clamor for a reduction in income taxes it is important that citizens should keep a few facts in mind.

The first of these is that if the government is going to spend money it has to get it from somewhere. Those who suggest that it could borrow the money should keep in mind that this year 23 per cent, or almost one quarter of the government's total expenditures, will go to pay interest and other charges on our public debt. This payment is just about as large as the entire income of the government in pre-war years—larger than any year before 1936.

* * *

IT IS FAIRLY obvious then that the money will have to be raised by taxation and if the income tax is to be reduced it will be necessary to increase other taxes. And that brings us to a point which all those who object to paying income taxes, especially those in the lower income brackets, should keep in mind.

The more money a person makes the harder the income tax hits him. It is imposed on a "progressive" basis. That means that the lower income brackets are assessed at a small percentage of total income and as the income goes up the percentage goes up even more quickly. In other words those who have higher incomes pay the biggest percentage of the tax—which is as it should be. This means that those who are best able to afford it carry the biggest share of government costs.

If, however, the government has to depend on indirect taxes, such as the sales tax, these hit people in direct proportion to the amount of money they spend. The result is that the person in the low income brackets, who must spend all of his income, pays a greater percentage of his income in taxes than one in the higher brackets who can afford to save.

* * *

IT IS HIGH TIME therefore that Canadians in all income groups should sit down and think this question over carefully. Much as we dislike direct taxation such as the income tax, this is the fairest kind of tax of all because it is imposed on an "ability-to-pay" basis. Indirect taxes tend to hit the poor man harder than they do the more wealthy.

Under these circumstances I think people should consider carefully the statement heard too often these days, "we have reached the limit of taxation." If this be true then the government must not undertake any additional services or expenditures. From here on every time we ask the government to spend more money on this, that, or the other things we should first ask ourselves whether we are prepared to have our taxes increased in order to make it possible.

D-Day, Not Dunkirk

BY FRANK B. WALKER

LONDON. Britain is adjusting herself slowly to her new condition. The first shock of the crisis has worn off and the discomforts which spring from it are no longer acute. They are chronic.

It becomes quite simple after a while to adjust one's self to rationed electricity, dwindling or non-existent supplies of hot water a paralyzed elevator system and an increased number of minor discomforts ranging from irregular transportation to working or attempting to work in one's overcoat.

The human mind and body are strangely flexible organs and, over here, the realization that this condition has no immediate end has been met with a mental shrug of the shoulders which represents both the best and the worst in the British character.

* * *

THERE ARRIVES a point when the capacity of endurance becomes a vice rather than a virtue and what may have been magnificent in wartime is not so healthy a characteristic when fighting an invisible enemy. It is this which makes so very difficult the task of putting over to the British people the dangers inherent in Britain's economic condition.

Somewhere in the mind of the people is the feeling they will "get through somehow" and it is this type of complacency the government must fight if it is to secure the response from the people which the crisis demands.

It is hard to sell the British people on the idea that they are, if not over the economic precipice, at least walking along the edge of it. To the ordinary man, the crisis meant a temporary stoppage where he worked and the type of inconvenience already referred to. What he does not appear to realize is that the stoppages may get longer, the discomforts more lasting and his whole standards of living lower.

He has been told that the solution lies in his own hands. But even this appeal for hard work loses its force when he can see in the factory where he works only sufficient stocks of materials to last a day or so ahead. More than this, his inherent conservatism makes him fight a change.

* * *

THIS HAS BEEN the difficulty in persuading the trade unions to turn over to night shifts. The Englishman does not like them and it is doubtful whether he can be persuaded voluntarily to work them. Full employment is something which involves a completely new psychological approach on the part of the worker and this approach has not been effected yet.

If anything, the British housewife may be the first to gain a real understanding of the crisis, for it is upon her that the results of it have fallen most directly. It is the housewife who finds herself trying to adjust her labors to the vagaries of electricity supply and the dwindling response of the gas jet. It is she who must do her housework in the dark and cope with the endless drudgery of continued rationing.

The government may say that Britain's standard of living is better than it ever was but an arrangement of statistics is no compensation for the monotony of British meals and the paucity of household articles.

* * *

IT IS THE HOUSEWIFE who may work the miracle of convincing her husband that the adjustments necessary to meet power rationing must be made.

If the crisis can be sold in terms of darkened streets, smaller rations, fewer clothes, no towels, unlit homes and colder kitchens, then perhaps the response may be sufficient to break the lethargy in which the British people seem to be gripped.

One of the difficulties is that the crisis has merely piled discomfort upon discomfort. If what has happened in Britain had happened in Canada, the effect and the response would be immediate. But the power cuts have only become more frequent; the rationing this winter more rigorous; and the difficulties of transportation more acute.

There is no sudden impact — just one more obstacle to the return of what are now rather regretfully referred to as the pre-war years, even though those years were years of unemployment.

* * *

THE PRESENT period has been called Britain's Economic Dunkirk and this again reflects that deep rooted belief that everything will come out all right. But Dunkirk was a defeat and not a victory and the consequences of Dunkirk and the parallel battles fought in that period show themselves in the ruins along London streets today.

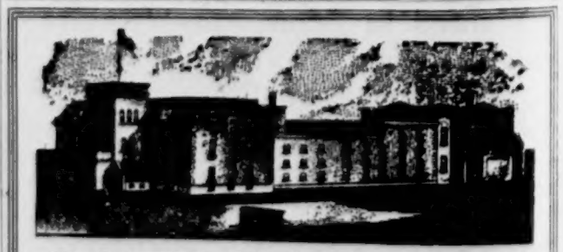

It would be sad if Britain's Economic Dunkirk was also to produce in the economic structure of Britain the scars which its physical counterpart have left.

What is needed over here is not the spirit of Dunkirk but the spirit of D-Day. What is needed is not the ability to endure but the capacity to attack.

Bill "Killed" in House

Withhold Tax Exemption For Mennonite School

A seldom used, but very effective method of killing a piece of legislation was used in the Legislature twice Friday evening, once with success and once without.

A MOTION THAT the chairman leave the chair while the house is in committee has the effect of killing legislation being considered.

The bill killed was one which would have granted tax exemption to the Mennonite Brothers in Christ for their Bible school at Didsbury. This bill had been opposed in the municipal law committee by the Didsbury village council, but the committee had passed it along to the house for consideration. It had been given second reading and was before the commitee of the whole when Gordon Taylor (SC-Drumheller) made the motion which killed it.

Members were overwhelmingly in favor of this action.

Protests by Elmer E. Roper (CCF-Edmonton) that this method of dealing with a bill did not give opportunity for discussion, were declared out of order.

UNSUCCESSFUL efforts to kill a bill granting tax exemptions to the Basilian Fathers and the Sisters of the Immaculate Conception at Mundare were launched by W. Masson (SC-Wainwright).

Mr. Masson's efforts preceded those of Mr. Taylor by a few minutes.

He told the committee that Mundare council had made representations against the bill and made reference to an elaborate establishment maintained by these orders in Mundare.

Hon. Lucien Maynard, KC, attorney-general, told the committee that in 1942 the town of Vegreville had offered the religious order tax exemption if it would move to that town. However, the establishment in Mundare had been maintained, due to a promise by the village that the same tax exemption privileges would be granted.

The committee dealt favorably with four other bills dealing with tax exemptions for religious institutions.

Divorce Pleas Flooding Senate

OTTAWA, March 29. — (CP) — Canada's rising divorce rate was pointed up yesterday with disclosure in the Senate that petitions before that august body for the untying of unhappy marital knots had hit an all-time high.

MARRIAGE counselling and other moves for the smoothing of post-wedding relationship notwithstanding, the record of 399 divorce petitions was for the province of Quebec alone, the only province which still must have divorces approved by the Senate.

And it eclipsed even the number of divorce bills handled by the Senate in the days when it accepted them for the provinces of Ontario and Prince Edward Island as well as from Quebec.

Howie Meeker Highly Praised

TORONTO, March 29 (CP)—There was nothing but praise from both camps for Toronto's Howie Meeker, the little man who broke up the first game, as the Maple Leafs and Detroit Red Wings rested Thursday for the second of their best-of-seven Stanley Cup semi-finals here Saturday night.

To managing director Conn Smythe, the war veteran who scored the overtime goal which gave the Leafs a 3-2 victory in the opened Wednesday night, is "the best we've had going in on goal since Charlie Conacher."

IF YOU POLLED the Wings yesterday, they'd probably vote unanimously for Howie as the rookie of the year, so impressed were they by the brilliant dash the right winger made across the Detroit net to flip the deciding goal on a backhand shot.

But Detroit's captain Syd Abel thinks Detroit can come from behind and take the round because "Toronto had the breaks with them all season but they're the kind of a team that can lose by 10 goals just as easily." He figured the season's record in which the Leafs won eight and tied two in 12 meetings can be tossed out the window—"we've got a lot of money players on our club."

Hershey, Hornets Open On Tuesday

NEW YORK, March 29 -(AP)—Maurice Podoloff, president of the American Hockey League, said Friday that the final playoff round would open at Hershey on Tuesday, April 1, instead of tonight as previously announced.

Hershey Bears and Pittsburgh Hornets will also meet at Hershey on April 3 under the revised schedule and then move to Pittsburgh for the third and fourth games on April 5 and 8.

English Cricketers Playing NZ Again

AUCKLAND, N.Z., March 29 (Reuters) — England's touring cricket team Friday opened its last exhibition match in New Zealand against an Auckland squad. The Britons scored 197 runs for five wickets in the space of 2½ hours.

The match will run three days.

Doesn't Expect Closed Duck Season

MOOSE JAW, Sask., March 29 (CP) — E. L. Paynter, Saskatchewan game commissioner, said here Thursday night he believes there will be an open season on ducks in Western Canada this year despite reports to the contrary.

He said, however, that there might be a reduction in daily bag and season limits.

Fort Worth Ousts Tulsa Oilers 4-2

FORT WORTH, Tex., March 29 (CP) — Fort Worth Rangers advanced to the United States Hockey League semi-finals last night by defeating Tulsa Oilers 4-2 to win their best-of-five series three games to two. V. Jones nailed two of the winners' goals with Weaver and Sawyer getting the others. Ubriaco and Hellyer were the Tulsa marksmen.

Full Citizenship Urged for Japanese

VANCOUVER, March 29 (CP)—The Vancouver Civil Liberties Union and the Vancouver Consultative Council have sent briefs to federal and provincial government representatives requesting full citizenship for Japanese, in Canada and compensation for property loss during the war. The civil liberties union asks liberty of movement for the Japanese, the right to vote and compensation for loss of property through "forced sales."

Ottawa Subsidies Amount to Million

Amount of statutory subsidies payable by the Ottawa government to the province of Alberta is estimated to be $1,794,361, according to an amendment made to legislation appearing before committee of the whole in the Legislature Friday afternoon.

THIS SUM FORMS part of the amount to be paid by the Dominion-provincial tax transfer agreement.

The legislation being considered was a bill to extend legislative approval to an agreement reached by the province with the Dominion.

When the bill was originally printed, this amount was left blank. Premier Ernest Manning said Friday this was the amount to be inserted.

The bill was approved by the committee.

Admits Giving Rose Explosive Details

MONTREAL, March 29 (CP)—Raymond Boyer, testifying Friday at his conspiracy trial, said he had on his own volition given Fred Rose in 1944 information about Canada's new method for production of the super explosive RDX. Testimony of the Montreal scientist, charged with having conspired to communicate information unlawfully to Russia, was largely his explanation of a deposition he gave last year to a Royal Commission investigating espionage. The deposition was admitted as evidence two days ago. In it he said that Rose, unseated Labor-Progressive member of Parliament for Montreal-Cartier and now serving a six-year penitentiary term for espionage activities, had asked him to reveal "what we are doing in RDX."

Britain, Russia Discuss Treaty

BY ROSS MUNRO

MOSCOW, March 29—(CP)—Preliminary discussion began here today between British and Russian authorities on revision of the Anglo-Soviet treaty of 1942, it was learned officially.

NEGOTIATIONS ARE being handled by Sir Maurice Peterson, British ambassador to Moscow, and Sir Oliver Harvey, senior member of the British delegation to the foreign ministers conference, for Britain, and Andrei Vishinsky, Soviet deputy foreign minister, and a foreign office official called Golunski for Russia.

The first meeting took place March 27 and there was another yesterday.

The pact, for 20 years, was signed in London May 29, 1942 by Anthony Eden, then foreign secretary, and Foreign Minister Molotov.

Extend Camps

OTTAWA, March 29 (CP)—The nine summer camps across Canada for the Royal Canadian Sea Cadet corps will be operated 14 instead of seven days this year and will provide summer training for some 4,000 boys drawn from corps in every province, Defence Minister Claxton announced last night.

Fourth Population Claims Age Pension

DUBLIN, March 29 (CP)—One-fourth of Eire's population now claims old age pensions, Dr. James Ryan, minister of social services, reported before the Dail approved an £11,350,000 ($45,440,000) social services budget for the new fiscal year.

Capt. Patrick Giles, opposition member, complained there were "too many men in Eire who dance all night and do no work by day; there is too much pursuit of amusement, too much idleness and gambling and drinking, too."

Bohozuk Denies Murdering Baby

HAMILTON, March 29—(CP)—William Bohozuk, husky 28-year-old steelworker and amateur oarsman, yesterday declared "I did not kill the infant and I am innocent" when he was called to the stand at conclusion of the Crown's case in the charge of murder against him, laid in connection with the death of an infant boy said to have been born to Mrs. Evelyn Maclean Dick. The baby's body was found encased in cement, packed in a suitcase found in Mrs. Dick's home a year ago.

Africans Reprieved

ACCRA, Gold Coast, March 29 (AP)—Governor Sir Allen Burns announced last night that death sentences for two African negro tribesmen convicted of a ritual murder had been commuted to life imprisonment. Three fellow tribesmen were hanged here last Monday. Six reprieves were granted to allow the tribesmen's lawyers to appeal a judge's refusal to allow them habeas corpus hearings.

Sect Disappointed At Hutterite Bill

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., March 29—(CP)—Rev. John Wurz, religious leader of the nearby Wilson Siding Hutterite colony and an elder for the sect in Alberta yesterday expressed disappointment at some features of the Alberta Legislature report on Hutterites.

MR. WURZ expressed disappointment particularly with the recommendation that new Hutterite colonies be not allowed within 40 miles of existing colonies and said the recommendation was not feasible and that "it looks as though they want to get rid of the Hutterites."

While in Edmonton hearing debates in the Legislature on Hutterites Mr. Wurz said he conferred personally with Premier Manning several times and received courteous hearing.

He said he does not think the federal government would allow the new legislation developing from the report and recommendations to become effective.

Predicts Boost Gasoline Prices

OTTAWA, March 29 (CP)—Increased gasoline prices to Canadian motorists before the end of April following relaxation of price ceilings on gas, was predicted last night by W. K. Whiteford, president of the British American Oil Company. In an interview he was critical of various provincial governments for increasing their gasoline taxes after withdrawal of Dominion from the gasoline tax field. That there would be increases in gasoline prices he did not doubt but declined to predict the amount of the increase, saying it would differ in different regions.

A new life guarded from the start

The doctors and the nurses in Canada's leading maternity hospitals have chosen a new weapon with which to protect both mother and child from the risks of septic infection. They use 'Dettol,' the modern antiseptic. And the qualities of an antiseptic are never more searchingly tested than during the hours of childbirth.

The properties of 'Dettol' are remarkable. Though a powerful germicide, 'Dettol' is kind and gentle to human tissues. 'Dettol' is non-poisonous, and harmless to everything but germs.

DETTOL
THE MODERN ANTISEPTIC

THE REASONS why 'Dettol' is now being used in more and more of the leading hospitals in Canada.

1 'Dettol' antiseptic is a ruthless killer of the germs that cause so many septic infections.
2 'Dettol' is non-toxic—non-poisonous. (Important in homes where there are young children).
3 'Dettol' is effective in the presence of blood and pus.
4 'Dettol' is gentle and kind to human tissues.
5 'Dettol' is safe: so safe that it could, in emergency, be used even in the dark.
6 'Dettol' does not stain either linen or the skin.
7 'Dettol' is deodorant, pleasant, agreeable, and admirably suited for use in feminine hygiene.

Do as the hospitals do, keep 'Dettol' handy and use it promptly whenever infection threatens.

TODAY'S MESSAGE

Palm Sunday

One week remains before the Christian world commemorates the great triumph of Christ's resurrection. Tomorrow, the thoughts of Christians will be on the last hour of joy that Christ knew before He was led to his agony on Golgotha.

The incident of Palm Sunday is of inescapable significance. The question it poses is the same today as it was when the excited crowd made a carpet of palm leaves for the Nazarene as he rode into Jerusalem: Do we truly love Christ or do we follow Him only so long as He seems to beckon us along paths of ease and comfort?

The air was loud with hosannas when the Saviour, who had raised the dead to life, and healed the sick and lame, arrived from the feast in Jerusalem. But there were many among the crowd who hailed Him only because He was a miracle worker, because they hoped He might lead them more easily to the abundant life. They either had no faith in His teachings or had rejected them as impossible to live by. Their lack of sincerity was shown when later they saw Him bearing a cross of ignominy, and joined in the chorus of mockery.

Christ lived 2,000 years ago, but His followers are not much different now than those who were privileged to know Him in the flesh. They still include the worldings, who pay Him lip service, but cast scorn upon Him as others did because He would not come down from His Cross. The faithful alone are those who continue to behold on the face of the suffering Christ the glory of His redeeming love and to hear from his stricken lips the words of everlasting consolation and hope.

GEMS FROM SWEDENBORG:

"He that refrains from doing evil to his neighbor because it is antagonistic to religion, that is, antagonistic to the Divine, refrains from doing evil from a spiritual motive; but he that refrains from doing evil to another merely from fear of the law, or the loss of reputation, of honor, or gain, that is, from regard to self and the world, refrains from doing evil from a natural motive, and is led by himself. The life of the latter is natural, that of the former is spiritual."

"All religion has relation to life, and the life of religion is to do that which is good."

—Heaven and Hell

STATELINESS is added to this two-story home by clever variation of the roof design, and the recessed doorway adds a note of seclusion. Although the residence is not large the attached garage gives to this home the appearance of goodly width. The combined living-room and dining-room area gives expansiveness to the downstairs quarters. The second-floor plan provides for three bedrooms and bath, with one of the bedrooms over the garage.

Christian Science Speaker Outlines "The Way of Life"

That true life is spiritual, because it is the reflection of God, Spirit, was explained by Peter B. Biggins, CSB of Seattle, in a public lecture on Christian Science.

THE SPEAKER contrasted the true spiritual life with the belief of material living, and showed how this true sense can be attained.

The lecture, entitled "Christian Science: The Way of Life," was delivered in McDougall United Church, and was sponsored by First Church of Christ, Scientist, Edmonton. The speaker is a member of the Board of Lectureship of the Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts. He was introduced to the audience by Mrs. Lilian R. Blackstock.

In considering the true way to live, Mr. Biggins said, we are led to give attention to the true way to think.

The wise man, who was king in Jerusalem many centuries ago, said, "Keep thy heart with all diligence; for out of it are the issues of life."

Attend to your thinking, for that determines your living. But Jesus put it better and more practically when he said, speaking of the Christ, "I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly." Our Master presented the true way of life, the right way to live.

ABOVE THE entrance to a hall in a well-known American college are the words, "Live to learn." Over the doorway at a companion entrance to the same hall is the legend, "Learn to live." It is necessary first to learn the truth about Life, then to live the truth we are learning. What is the truth about Life? It is that life which reflects Life, God, is spiritual; for Life is Spirit, and that man is the image and likeness of Spirit, the true expression of Life. How can we live this truth, when we seem to be in the midst of so much that is material? Firstly, by seeing clearly what the ideal is; secondly, by cherishing it; and thirdly, by putting it into effect so far as we can at each stage of growth. This can be done at once by everyone without interfering with any normal human activity or duty, but with great benefit in every way.

MARY BAKER EDDY, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, has written in her textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" (p 548), "Earth has little light or joy for mortals before Life is spiritually learned." This statement, expressing the clear spiritual vision of its author, points to the seeming cause of humanity's difficulties.

Underlying all the mistakes, the ills, and the woes of the human family is a wrong sense of life, the belief that life is material. Supporting all the right and worthy achievements of upward-striving men and women is the conviction that Life is Spirit.

AS YOU GAIN this more spiritual sense of existence through Christian Science, you experience a newly found light, a freshly discovered joy, a realization that all human problems can be solved by this means.

You have the right to declare and realize that you, in reality, now live in God, in Spirit, and that you are capable of enjoying the perfect health, happiness, and freedom which belong to you as the child of your Father-Mother God.

AS YOU declare these facts understandingly, you will enjoy the fruits in your experience in the measure of the persistance of your declaration and the clearness of your realization. While the material sense of things leads to inevitable disappointment, the spiritual sense will lead to the fulfillment of your highest legitimate hopes.

Paulette's Tresses Emerge Victorious

LONDON, March 29 (AP)—A strike over who should put up actress Paulette Goddard's hair—which tied up production in a major British movie studio for three days—was settled last night, a union official announced.

Miss Goddard's hair will continue to be dressed by her Swedish-born hairdresser, Hedvig Mijordu, and union executives will deal with grievances of dissatisfied British hairdressers.

Tom O'Brien, general secretary of the National Association of Theatrical and Kine (cinema) Employes, said the strikers would resume work Friday.

PREMIER ERNEST MANNING

Scheduled For Arena

Premier Will Preside At Revival Meeting

Premier Ernest Manning will be chairman of the old-fashioned revival hour at the Edmonton arena, Thursday, April 10, at 7:30 p.m.. Pre-rally service will be held in the Salvation Army Citadel from 12 noon until 1:30 p.m., commencing Monday, and continuing for two weeks.

THE RALLY will be directed by Dr. Charles E. Fuller, and accompanied by Ruby Atwood, famous old-fashioned revival hour pianist.

Dr. Fuller is said to have more than 3,000 hours at the microphone, and has only missed two broadcasts in 19 years.

The old-fashioned revival hour has been in operation for 21 years, and claims short wave outlets from Manila, one in China, and Luxembourg. In addition, they are now reaching the entire United States, Canada, Cuba, Puerto Rico, Panama, large areas in South America, British Guinea, and South Africa.

THE REVIVAL hour has the distinction of being one of the first coast to coast religious broadcasts in America. It is said that they have about 1,128 outlets for the old-fashioned revival hour, and pilgrim hour combined.

According to recent surveys the revival hour is among the top in national religious broadcasts. A Boston paper made an estimate, that about twenty million people were being reached each Sunday, during 1941.

GORDON HAFSO

Choir Will Sing Easter Cantata

The choir of Central Lutheran Church under the direction of Gordon Hafso, will present the Easter Message on Palm Sunday evening at 7:30 p.m., when it will sing the Easter cantata "Calvary" by Henry Wessel. The message in this cantata centres around the Seven Last Words of Christ from the cross.

Solo parts are sung by Margie Lechelt, Muriel Olson, Arnold Hafso and Peter Bjornson. The scene of the Crucifixion is pictured with choruses, trios and duets giving the hearers an outline of events which took place from the time the Saviour spoke the words: "Father forgive them—" until he cries: "It is finished." The cantata closes with the chorus: "Christ the Lord is Risen Today."

This is an annual event at Central Lutheran, and this year it promises to be better than ever before. Mrs. Bent Owren will be at the piano.

Pastor Will Tell Of Arson Attempts

In the Sunday morning worship service in the Beulah Tabernacle at 11:30 o'clock the congregation will be told the details of recent alleged arson attempts which have been committed against the Tabernacle during the last few days. Following this Rev. Carlson, the pastor-evangelist will speak on the theme "When God Laughs."

The Sunday evening evangelistic service will be held in the Dreamland theatre at 7:30 o'clock when missionary Miss Dorothy Parr will tell of her experiences while working in Japan during the war years. Mr. Carlson will conclude the service as he speaks on the subject — "I Did Not Approve of That CBC Broadcast Because—".

Guest Speaker At Nazarene Church

The Rev. Edward Lawlor, district superintendent of the Church of the Nazarent in Alberta, will be the guest speaker at the Church of the Nazarene, corner of 99 street and Whyte avenue, Sunday at 11:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

Mr. Lawlor is a former pastor of the Church of the Nazarene in Calgary, and before his election to the office of district superintendent was provincial director of the Youth for Christ in Alberta.

Accent Is On Sunshine In Post-War Garden Style

A single tree gives enough shade in this garden drenched in sunshine

Post-war trends in garden design give evidence of following the same direction as house architecture, away from the traditional toward the functional. Instead of planting to create landscape pictures of traditional styles, we will arrange our gardens to serve definite purposes first, and develop picturesque qualities which will not interfere with these functions.

Just what are the functions of a small home garden? Most general agreement is likely to be that it serve as an outdoor home, where we can enjoy fresh air and sunshine and such recreational activities as may appeal to us. This is not new; since World War I the idea of the garden as an "outdoor living room" has spread. But here, as in house architecture, tradition has given way slowly; there has been a conflict way slowly; there has been a conflict between the desire for a useful garden, and one that will look like others, especially those we remember So a large proportion of all small home grounds planted twenty years or more ago are now so overgrown with trees and shrubs—planted for traditional reasons—that sunshine is excluded from both house and grounds, and flowers—perhaps even grass—cannot be well grown because of too much shade.

While all this shade was developing, sunshine was rising so rapidly in our esteem that we are sometimes accused of being sun worshipers. But there are sound scientific reasons for valueing sunshine, which has been proved to be a vital necessity for human well being. For once, fashion, art and science are working to the same purpose, to increase the amount of sunshine, and sunny environment, available to us. Millions are migrating to those sections of the country which enjoy the most sunshine. In less favored places we must design our clothes, houses, gardens and decorations to make the most of all the sunshine we posses.

Garden design is following this trend. Postwar gardens will not be without shade, for nothing can be pleasanter than the shade of a tree to one who has been exposed to the warm rays of the summer sun; but they will confine shade to definitely planned areas, where one may rest and view a garden drenched in sunshine.

Such gardens can develop a variety of floral beauty which is impossible in overplanted grounds, where the roots of trees and shrubs fill the soil and their leaves shut out the sunshine over the entire area.

In sunny garden areas many activities can be enjoyed, but none is likely to be more popular and rewarding than gardening itself the growing of fine plants, either for food or flowers, which millions have learned to enjoy during the years of war gardening.

Coleman Captures Intermediate Crown

Hounds Defeated By Score of 5-2 In Rubber Tilt

VERNON, B.C., March 29—(CP)— Coleman Grands, making every break count, captured the Edmonton Journal trophy, emblematic of western Canada intermediate hockey supremacy with a 5-2 victory over Notre Dame Hounds before 3,000 fans here last night.

It was the third straight win for the Alberta puckchasers, who fought back from the brink of elimination to win the title after dropping the first two games of the best-of-five series to the Wilcox, Sask., collegians.

IT WAS A HARD fight all the way with Coleman on the defensive after the first chapter. Notre Dame outshot the Grands 33-18 in the last two sessions as they swarmed all around the net doing everything but score.

Bill Fraser led the winners with three counters with Joe Beguin and Alec Kovacik tallying once. Playing-coach Frank Germann and centre Jim Hanson scored for the Wilcox boys.

Alec Kovacik started the scoring for Coleman when he touched off a passing play from Bill Fraser and Joe Beguin at the middle mark of the first. Coleman went up 2-0 when Beguin let go a shot from just inside the blue line and Huck, in the Hounds net, let it trickle through his pads. Frank Germann opened for the college crew with a drive to the corner of the cage from fairly well out.

HOUNDS HELD THE play in the second period, but Coleman did the scoring. Bill Fraser was awarded a goal when Alex Dornstader tossed his stick as Fraser was in the clear. Fraser again scored on a breakaway with Duke Kwasnie.

In the final stanza, the Hounds swarmed all over Coleman goalie Dave Pow with 17 shots. Jim Hanson took a pass from Bill Hryciuk to cut the lead but Fraser completed the hat-trick with Hounds one man short. The Wilcox squad just couldn't get the puck into the net as they hit the post or missed the open corner.

COLEMAN — Pow; Joyce, Kwasnie; Anderson; Collins, Antonenko Subs—Begiun, Mozell, Fraser, Kovacik, Kryczka, Pavius.

NOTRE DAME — Huck; Germann, Dornstader; Mellon; Elliott, Hryciuk. Subs—McKay, Francis, Hanson, McLeod, Richardson, Mulhall, Booth, Starrak, Wolstencraft.

Officials — George Sparrow, W. Sigalet.

FIRST PERIOD: 1—Coleman, Kovacik (Fraser, Beligun) 10:34; 2—Coleman, Beigun, 13:11; 3 — Notre Dame, Germann 15:28. Penalty—Anderson.

SECOND PERIOD: 4—Coleman, Fraser 10:45; 5—Coleman, Fraser (Kwasnie) 18:03. Penalty — McLeod.

THIRD PERIOD: 6—Notre Dame, Hanson (Hryciuk) 10:15; 7—Coleman, Fraser 17:56. Penalties — Richardson, Antonenko.

Barbara Ann Scott Leads Figure Skaters

OTTAWA, March 29—(CP)—Barbara Ann Scott, 18-year-old Ottawa world skating queen, took a decisive lead of 125.9 points last night in defence of the North American figure skating crown she won two years ago at New York.

At the end of the women's compulsory figures —which account for 60 per cent of their total points— the winsome, blonde star had accumulated a total of 1662.2.

Behind her were: Janette Ahrens, St. Paul, Minn., 1536.7; Yvonne Claire Sherman, New York, 1,501.4; Suzanne Morrow, Toronto, 1,485.9; Marilyn Ruth Take Toronto, 1,477.0; Shirley Irene Lander, Seattle, Wash., 1,435.9; Eileen Seigh, Brooklyn, N. Y., 1,386.9.

ELIMINATIONS FOR the dance championships continued last night at the Minto Skating club, Barbara Ann's home ice, on the edge of downtown Ottawa.

The pretty Ottawa world champion was leading almost from the start as the judges viewed the figures of each skater and then held up their cards awarding their individual points.

Miss Scott was ahead by 40 points at the end of the fifth of the eight compulsory figures with a total of 905.4 against 865.4 for Miss Sherman, her nearest competitor at that stage.

Wearing a pretty blue skating costume, Barbara Ann displayed the same smooth style and grace which won her the European and world figure skating crowns last month.

HER COMPETITORS were as graceful a group of skaters as has appeared on Ottawa ice for a long time. Miss Sherman, tall, black-haired New Yorker, showed a fine measured form as she exercised the slow, intricate compulsory figures which account for 60 per cent of the final score.

Janette Ahrens, St. Paul, Minn., skating club entry, was runner-up in the unofficial score at the end of the third set of figures but fell behind with 837.5 in the fifth.

Sixth of the seven entrants was Shirley Irene Lander, Seattle, Wash., with 794.5

Today the skaters will be tested in their individual technique and originality in the free skating competitions. With music of their choice they will execute the special loops, twirls and figures which measure their ability.

Along the Fairways
—with Bert Greer—

Canada's long, frigid winters are a far-cry from those in the Sunny South where the golfers can keep their swings in tune the year-round, but a couple of Edmonton professionals, Pete and Alex Olynyk, have more-or-less solved the problem for Edmonton's enthusiasts.

For the past two years these fairway experts have operated golf schools in the city and have instructed players of all ages and calibre. This year the school is located in the basement at the rear of Thompson and Dynes' store —and it is quite an elaborate place

To say that the school was popular would be putting it mildly. A huge bucket containing several hundred coverless balls, is mute evidence of the amout of club-swinging that has been going on in the past three months. The school opened on January 2 and will close on April 5.

☆ ☆ ☆

Pete, who is pro at the Mayfair, and Alex, pro at Highlands, used a lot of psychology when they laid out their place. There are six driving lanes and they are all open. The reason, said Pete, was to cure players suffering from an inferiority complex. They must do their swinging in full view of everyone and when they step onto the first tee in the spring they should have fewer "butterflies" in their tummies, he remarked.

Do the players derive much benefit from the winter training?

Both Pete and Alex answered that one in short order. They explained that a pro can tell if the player is hitting the ball straight and true by the path of the clubhead. And, another thing, it prevents the player from becoming stiff from the long layoff.

Alex appeared particularly interested in the champions of tomorrow. He said he had been holding junior classes once a week all winter and next year intended to devote every Saturday morning to the "kids." A number of youngsters showed a lot of promise this winter he added.

Roughly 300 players attended the school and the pros put in approximately 60 hours apiece each week giving lessons. In the three months they used up 1,400 old golf balls, which Pete is seriously considering sending back to the factory for new jackets for next winter.

Edmonton, in Alex's opinion is the best golf town in Canada, and he should know, for he has been from one end of the country to the other, as well as United States. Golf here is also cheaper than anywhere else, considering the fine type of courses in Edmonton, he contended.

Pete is opposed to pros attempting to change a left-handed golfer into a right-handed swinger. He believed the only reason there were not so many good lefties as right-handers was that the southpaws were in the minority.

The school is a regular clubhouse for the players. They leave their shoes, clubs and sweaters there and if a club needs repairing they turn it over to the pros, who have an up-to-date workshop behind the driving range.

It is a picturesque place, too. Paintings of mountain scenes and golf courses line the sides.

Now that the snow has disappeared, most of the players are doing their practicing outdoors, Pete remarked.

Manitoba Raises Junior Golf Age

WINNIPEG, March 29 (CP)—The Manitoba golf association Thursday night approved a recommendation that the age limit for junior golfers in the province be increased from under 17 years of age to under 20.

This policy will bring Manitoba juniors in line with those from other parts when it comes to participation in the Canadian junior tournament.

At the same time it was agreed to stage the annual provincial junior tournament prior to the dominion event and Willingdon cup play.

HAROLD DEAN, Sports Editor

APRIL 11, 1936, DOESN'T SEEM so very long ago, but a lot of good hockey has been played since that night in Winnipeg when Kimberley Dynamiters downed the Sudbury Falcons 4-3 in overtime to win the Allan Cup.

The Kootenay club is on the move again and two of the team which captured the senior title in 1936 will be on the ice at the arena here tonight, when the BC champions oppose Calgary Stampeders in the third game of the western semi-final series.

Harry Brown, former Edmonton Superior who as a Dynamiter became a defenceman, was a member of that '36 championship squad and so was Jack Forsey and both will be playing tonight. And Ralph Redding, now coach of the Kimberley club, also performed on that same Allan Cup team.

Arena Kimberley Home Ice

DYNAMITERS ARRIVED IN EDMONTON yesterday and had a workout during the afternoon at the arena, now the home rink of the Kimberley team. They like the big surface and the boys who won 18 straight on the Kimberley sheet seem convinced they have the ability to take Calgary on the ice they have now adopted as their own.

"Jakie" Nash will start in goal and Lyall Swaney, ex-Vancouver Canuck and Bill Jones, a Canmore junior last year, will likely draw the opening defence assignment. Bill (Tonk) Johnson and Harry Brown are the other defence pair.

Frank (Sully) Sullivan did not play in the second game in Calgary and was in for only a few minutes during the first of the series, but he'll probably be back tonight. Frank was the leading scorer in the Western International League this season and he also won the Howard Anderson memorial trophy, being voted the most valuable player to his team in the circuit.

Sullivan "S" Line Centre

PROVIDING SULLIVAN STARTS HE'LL probably centre for the "S" line, the other members of which are Sam Callies and Lloyd Sanderson, ex-Coleman player who banged in the winning goal Wednesday night.

Benny Redisky, another Coleman product, pivoted the "S" line Wednesday, but he usually works with Jack Forsey and "Buck" Kavanagh. Gordon Wilson, Pete Clement (from St. Boniface) and Morris Dalzell are the other forwards. Sam Quigley, with San Francisco last season, is alternate goalie.

Jim Livingstone, manager of the club, is pretty high on his team's chances and so is Bob Brown, the Dynamiter trainer. Scribe Johnny Worth, of the Kimberley News, also is with the club and some 30 supporters accompanied the team to Edmonton. Calgary Stampeders are due in this afternoon and will be at full strength for the game tonight. Dynamiters will use Edmonton Flyer uniforms.

Harry Ornest to Umpire

HARRY ORNEST LOOKED IN TO say hello last night. A referee in the United States Hockey League this season, Harry flew up from Minneapolis, having worked the Kansas City-Minneapolis series. He leaves Monday, being named one of the officials for the Kansas City and Omaha final.

Harry says he has travelled 35,000 miles since leaving here last fall and he likes the officiating job. In fact he's even sold on it to the extent of accepting an appointment as umpire for the eight club West Texas—New Mexico Baseball League which opens April 23, and he has umpired five exhibition ball games already this spring.

Both Jim Fleming and Hassie Young, ex-Edmonton juniors who recently joined Kansas City from Los Angeles, are doing well with the Pla-Mors. Fleming is on a line with "Wingy" Johnston and Blade. Doug Lane, ex-Edmonton Flyer who finished the season with St. Louis Flyers, will be back here next week.

The United States circuit has experienced a great season, with capacity houses everywhere. Incidentally, here are the approximate full-house figures for each of the rinks: Omaha 7,000, Houston 10,000 Minneapolis 5,500, St. Paul 8,000, Kansas City 6,000, Fort Worth 7,000, Dallas 5,000, Tusla 5,000.

Wants Bigger "Cut" From Horse Racing

VICTORIA, March 29 (CP)—The proposed municipal levies increase on horse racing at Vancouver's Landowne Park to $400 a day will leave the British Columbia Turf and Country Club, Ltd., two alternatives—either to reduce purses and revert to country fair standards of racing, or close down altogether.

THAT WAS THE statement made by G. L. Fraser, counsel for the racing company, before a special meeting of the legislature's committee on municipal affairs here Thursday.

The committee recently agreed to recommend to the house that municipal taxes on race meetings, now $150 a day throughout the province, should be raised to $400 at Lansdowne and to $200 at Oak Bay's Willows Park on Vancouver Island.

Mr. Fraser said the B.C. Turf Club operated at a loss of $537 last year. It had paid the provincial government close to $300,000 in taxes, the dominion $200,000 and $6,600 to Richmond municipality in which Lansdowne Park lies.

"WE RAN THE TRACK last year entirely for the benefit of the governments," Mr. Fraser declared.

Reeve R. M. Grauer of Richmond said the municipality should get $500 a day, whether it came from the government or from racing interests.

The committee later reported to the house recommending that the government consider reimbursing municipalities in which race taxes were collected.

Two More Records At Gulfstream Park

NEW YORK, March 29 (AP)—Two more track marks fell Thursday at Gulfstream Park, where course records have been established almost daily.

Allen and Strandlund's Bert clipped two-fifths of a second off the mile- and- 70-yards mark in capturing the featured Fulford Purse, flashing to a half-length conquest in 1:41 two fifths. The old standard was held by Chicle Clown since Dec. 10, 1945.

Earlier, Time Stitch established a record of 1:10 one fifth for six furlongs. The former mark was 1:10 three fifths, shared by Buzfuz and Okapi lancer.

Talk Dominion Junior Curling

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., March 29 -(CP)—Possibility that 'teen-age curlers will have a Dominion play-off of their own is seen here today by Herman W. Stone, secretary of the Sault Curling Club, who made public a letter he has received from E. P. Atkinson, secretary of the Dominion Curling Association.

Mr. Atkinson's letter stated that Gordon Hudson of the Manitoba Curling Association had been named chairman of the committee to develop a Dominion play-off for the younger curlers and that a representative would be asked from the Northern Ontario Association for the committee.

EAC All-Star Series To be Played in April

Edmonton Athletic Club concluded another successful hockey season—a season that brought the provincial Midget championship to this city—with a banquet and get-together of officials and players connected with the organization, at the Institute of Applied Arts Building last night.

Although the meeting brought the competitive season to a close, officials have laid plans for more hockey. President Dr. Rupert Clare, who acted as chairman, announced that an EAC all-star series will be held April 24 and 26, which will include present and former members of the Club.

PLAYERS WHO ARE expected to take part are: Morey Rimstad, St. Louis Flyers; Bobby Carse, Cleveland Barons; Mac Colville, New Haven; Jack McGill, Boston Bruins; Eddie Cutts, Pittsburgh; George Agar, Buffalo; Ken Reardon, Montreal Canadiens; Harry Allen, New Method; Hassie Young, Kansas City; Elmer Kreller, Freddie Smitten, Billy Maher, Pug Young, Gordon Watt and Bim Barker.

Russ Sheppard, sports announcer, presented the CJCA Sports Cycle hockey trophy to Manager Wilf Kenny and Coach Dan Carrigan, of the Midgets. The players also received pictures of the team and crests from the club. The team members are: Lucien Frigon, Gordon Slogryn, Glen L'Heureux, John O'Shea, Vic Mayson, Dave Astley, Bruce Dickson, John Drever, George McAvoy, Dick Munro, Doug Stewart, Doug McNabb and Jack MacDonald.

BABE BRINKWORTH, manager of the juniors, presented the club trophy to Gordon Butler, judged the most valuable EAC junior, while Percy Daigle, coach of the Pee Wees, presented the Knowles Trophy to Grant Gilbertson, most valuable player in his division.

Among those introduced by President Clare were: Bill Ruff, vice-president of the Alberta Hockey Association; Art Potter, president of the Edmonton District Hockey Association; Gordon Self, director of juvenile and midget hockey, and Freddie Smitten, Billy Maher, Bim Barker, Bill Pettinger and Harry Allan, ex-members of the EAC's.

Buffalo Forward Joins Red Wings

TORONTO, March 29 -(CP)—Jimmy McFadden, 27-year-old Buffalo Bisons forward, joined Detroit Red Wings here last night and may play in the second game of their Stanley Cup semi-final with Toronto Maple Leafs, club officials announced.

McFadden, native of Winnipeg, was recalled after Detroit suffered casualties in the opener of the best-of-seven series, which Toronto won 3-2 Wednesday night.

He joined Buffalo from Ottawa Senators of the Quebec Senior Hockey League part way through the American Hockey League team's season, scoring 17 goals in league and playoff games before Bisons were eliminated.

CERDAN KAYOES GREEN IN SECOND

NEW YORK, March 29 —(AP)— European middleweight champion Marcel Cerdan, who showed only his boxing skill in his North American bow last December, uncovered his heavy artillery last night and knocked out Harold Green of Brooklyn in the second round of a 10-rounder in Madison Square Garden. Cerdan weighed 159½; Green 156½.

With the greatest Garden crowd in a year on hand for his second American start, the one-time French sailor from Algeria caught up with the rugged Brooklyn belter midway of the second round and put him away for the full count at 2:19.

Until he pulled the trigger on his high, hard one, the French flailer had trouble against Green's crowding, body-belting style, and the local larruper was given the first round on points.

Girl Dodds Sets Another Record

CLEVELAND, March 29 (AP)—Gil Dodds, the flying parson, set a meet record of 4:08.5 last night in winning the Catholic Universe Bulletin mile from a classy field in the feature event of the seventh annual indoor Knights of Columbus track meet at the arena.

Dodds clipped 2/10ths of a second off the 4:08.7 mark he set here in 1943, as he finished nearly 150 feet ahead of Quentin Breisford of Ohio Wesleyan University, United States inter-collegiate cross country champion.

Claim Rough Play Endangers Pro Hockey

By WILF GRUSON

TORONTO, March 29—(CP)—Everything can be overdone sooner or later, and in the specific case of rough play in the National Hockey League this season, it would seem that perhaps that stage has been reached for no other reason that such a non-controversial issue is the basis of condemnation in a newspaper editorial.

The large number of injuries stemming from the rough stuff can't be passed over lightly and the point has been raised—not by only one newspaper—whether professional hockey is in danger of suffering the same eclipse as lacrosse because of the prevalence of rough play.

THE LATEST PAPER to deal with the subject editorially is the Oshawa Daily Times-Gazette and it offers sound advice to the tycoons. The editorial said:

"Hockey executives, in both professional and amateur ranks, would do well to see to it that the game is played cleanly and that rough-house tactics are dealt with strictly. Field lacrosse was killed by rough play. The same can happen to hockey if the clamps are not imposed before it is too late."

THE PITCHER WHO likes to have his shirt-tail waving as he does his twirling is the main target of the Ontario Baseball Association in its campaign to crack down on slovenly-dressed players.

According to Ivan (Hamilton Spectator) Miller, OSA delegates will be asked at the association's annual meeting Good Friday to approve a constitutional change to make pitchers wear black trousers and to see that they tuck their shirts into their trousers.

"No more," says Ivan, "will a perspiring moundsman be permitted to loosen up at the middle to take advantage of the breezes, and the batsmen will be spared the handicap of whirling arms and legs being made more confusing by a shirt-tail waving in the breeze also."

Valuable Mares Killed By Autos

SANTA CLARA, Calif., March 29 (AP)—Six retired race mares, valued at $50,000 broke out of their paddock at Oakmead Farm Thursday, strayed to a highway and were killed by two automobiles.

They were Cinder Main, Lady's Chance, Beau Catcher, Gin Lime, Grisons and Flo L.

Caesar, Charlemagne and Napoleon all used the Saar valley as a highway to conquest.

Brooklyn Expected Do Better This Year

HAVANA, March 29—(AP)—The new Leo Durocher, subdued and sauve in manner, is sitting on the baseball hot seat. Nobody puts the idea in words but a visitor quickly gets the impression that it's "win or else" for the Dodgers this season.

Another rousing second-place finish won't be enough. The Brooklyn club roster admits as much with its caricature of a tattered bum, knocking the ashes off an inch-long cigar butt and growling: "This IS next year."

BROOKLYN'S BUBBLE could burst if key men like Pete Reiser and Dixie Walker should falter. The entire league is in better balance this year and it would be easy to slide as far as fifth place.

If an observer had to name prospects from the 1947 list who might go far he would pick pitchers Ed Chandler and Johnny Van Cuyk, plus outfielders Ed (Duke) Snider and Boris (Butch) Woyt.

Chandler still is the property of Fort Worth despite a 20-6 win record and a 2.00 earned run average in the Texas League.

DUROCHER HAS nominated Kirby Higbe, Joe Hatten, Ralph Branca and Hal Gregg as his main pitchers but it might be wise to add Chandler.

Van Cuyk, a 25-year-old lefthander who won 18 and lost eight and compiled an amazing 1.42 earned run mark at Fort Worth, is another strong bet.

Little Vic Lombardi is likely to get spot duty as is Ed Head, who has been showing good stuff against poor opposition. Hugh Casey will do the relief work aided by Rube Melton.

HOWIE SCHULTZ or Ed Stevens at first, Ed Stanky at second, Pee Wee Reese at shortstop and Arky Vaughan make up the regular infield of the moment.

Bruce Edwards, Bob Bragan, just out of service, and Dixie Howell are rated the first three catchers.

The regular outfield will be Reiser, Furillo and Walker.

Behind Reiser is Snider, a lefhanded power hitter. Woyt, who split his time between third base and the outfield while hitting .300 for Fort Worth, is a speedboy to back up Furillo in centre. He stole 59 bases in the Texas League.

Semi-Windup Set For Wrestling Card

Two more top-notch grunt and groan artists have been lined up by match-maker Cecil (Tiger) Goldstick for the coming wrestling show to be staged at the Memorial Hall Monday, April 7th. They are King Kong Clayton, colored heavyweight from Alabama and Jack Dillon, Chattanooga, Tenn., who are billed to struggle in the semi-windup.

King Kong Clayton, who was overseas with an all-colored U. S. division during the war, was last seen in an Edmonton ring in 1938, then being a favorite of the fans.

Main event for the revival show will see Al (Lord) Mills of Camrose and Tug Carlson of Los Angeles in action. A preliminary bout has yet to be arranged.

Other officers are: vice-president, Jack O'Brien; secretary, Barbara Newnham; membership committee, Martha Shore and Mr. and Mrs. Don Ross. Barry Faulkner and Stanley Johnson were chosen to direct club activities.

Over 1,000,000 See Coast Games

SAN DIEGO, Calif., March 29 (AP) — More than 1,000,000 people attended Pacific Coast Hockey League games in 11 cities during the season just closed, Al Leader, managing director of the circuit, announced Friday.

Seattle led all rinks in attendance with more than 140,000 paid gate admissions to the 34 games played there.

Leafs, Wings May Try Out New Nets

NORTH BAY, Ont., March 29—(CP)—If hero Howie Meeker happens to crash into the goal posts when Toronto Maple Leafs try to make it two straight over Detroit Red Wings Saturday night, the posts will obligingly bend—that is if inventor Bert Lindsay of Kirkland Lake gets his wish and his invention works.

Bert, goalie of the old-time Renfrew Millionaires and father of forward Ted Lindsay, who hopes to help the Wings pull even in their best-of-seven game Stanley Cup semi-final round, hopes that the trams will experiment with the net he has invented.

EN ROUTE TO Toronto, Bert demonstrated a model of his nets here and showed a letter from President Clarence Campbell of the National Hockey League who thought the Leafs and Wings might agree to give the new cages a trial Saturday night. Regulation nets were in use Wednesday night when Meeker fired the goal that gave the Leafs a 3-2 overtime victory.

Lindsay shipped two of his nets to Toronto and explains that the upright of his invention bends under seven pounds pressure. He thinks their non-rigidity will cut down injury risks.

Sixty Years of Teamwork

CO-OPERATION between urban and rural residents has made the city of Red Deer and the town of Lacombe among the most enterprising centres in Alberta, and has as richly benefited the population of the broad natural valley which these centres serve.

While Red Deer and Lacombe have based their whole economy upon conscientious service to the excellent farming districts which they centre, the farmers of the rich black loam land have given as generously of their products, so that the entire district now enjoys a degree of prosperity almost unequalled in any other part of the West.

Today as a variety of goods and services are distributed from Red Deer and Lacombe to the rural residents of the district, a constant flow of natural products of the area moves in — dairy products for the milk condensery and creameries; wheat, oats, barley and forage crops for the elevator and mills, as well as beef cattle, hogs and poultry products and honey, wool and furs for processing and marketing.

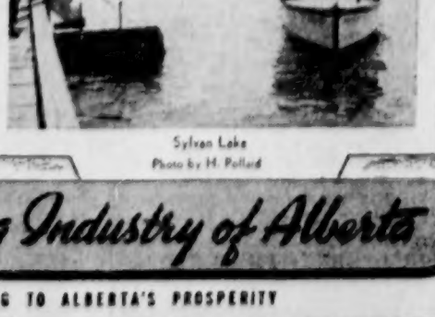

Mutual confidence and co-operation has accomplished much for the residents of this district where crop failure is unknown and town and city thrive.

RED DEER: On C.P.R. and C.N.R. lines and highway No. 2, 93 miles from Calgary and 98 miles from Edmonton. Population: City—4,500, District—9,600. Industries: mixed farming, hog raising, dairying. City has a milk condensery of 800-case daily capacity; two creameries; five grain elevators; bottling works; fence factory; creosote plant; sash and door factory; large chain department store; five modern hotels; two theatres; four banks; treasury branch; Canadian Vocational Training Centre; Red Deer health unit and school division headquarters; and owns and operates its own power distribution system and waterworks system, and is supplied with electric power and natural gas. Taxes are lower than in any other city in Alberta and more than $100,000 was subscribed to Victory Loans. 15 miles to the North West is Sylvan Lake, one of Alberta's most popular summer resorts.

City and district raised $3,531,950 for Victory Loans during the war.

LACOMBE: On C.P.R. and No. 2 highway, 85 miles south of Edmonton. Population: Town—1,800, district—9,000. Industries: mixed farming, stock raising, fur farming and wool, honey and flour and feed production. Situated in the centre of Alberta's richest black loam farming land, nine miles from Gull Lake summer resort, town has two modern hotels, two banks, treasuring branch, V.L.A. office, modern hospital, six cafes; modern creamery producing dairy products and pasteurized milk; and a large experimental station. Centre for Livestock Feeders' Association; Livestock Breeders' Association, Wool Growers' Association; largest horse sale in Canada held annually in heated Central Alberta Pavilion, as well as annual bull and stock sales. Water, sewer, electrical power and natural gas services; nine-hole golf course; enclosed curling rink and hockey arena. New town administration building to cost $150,000 and $60,000 Memorial Recreation Centre planned. Nearly $2,500,000 raised in Victory Loan drives.

Jew Terrorist Leaders "Like Business Group"

Associated Press correspondent Carter L. Davidson has been covering Palestine for the last year. In the following dispatch he gives an account of a secret meeting with Jewish underground leaders in the Holy Land, one of the rare occasions on which the Irgun Zvai Leumi command has dealt directly with the foreign press.—Editor.

By Carter L. Davidson

JERUSALEM, March 29—(AP)—I have just returned from a visit into the strongholds of the Jewish Underground, where I was permitted to meet secretly with a group of confident young men who plot to carve with the sword a Hebrew republic on both sides of the Jordan River.

THEY ARE the leaders of Irgun Zvai Leumi (national military organization) and from their war chest have sprung many of the tactics which have turned the Holy Land into a battlefield.

The interview itself was so casual in its manner that it might have been a chance gathering of bank clerks or insurance salesmen talking shop had it not been conducted "somewhere in Palestine."

The preliminaries—waiting at a prearranged spot in a prescribed costume, changing from one taxi to another on a dark road, wearing blackout goggles and slumping low on the taxi seat, hearing terse passwords and instructions in Hebrew—were exciting, but the actual meeting was lacking in dramatics.

I was not permitted to see the Irgun commander, Menachim Beigin, "for security reasons." I was assured, however, that he would see me later when the situation eased."

MY WELL-DRESSED informants could pass for members of a young business men's club in North America. They spoke in such matter-of-fact fashion that it was difficult to realize they were speaking of their aim to wage "a state of constant warfare" to restore Palestine to the Hebrew people.

Without emotion these men spoke of "an operations staff" and a "board of strategy."

The Irgun strategy is based on "a constant state of war" geared to "opportune moments." The spokesman explained that the explosion March 1 in the Jerusalem British Officers' Club which killed 16 persons and wounded 20 "might possibly be regarded as an answer to Foreign Secretary Bevin's House of Commons speech in which he called us a mere religious sect."

THE REQUIREMENTS of war make essential a tactical co-ordination between Irgun Vzai Leumi and the fighters for the Freedom of Israel, the so-called Stern gang," they explained, "but there have been no actual combined operations recently."

While the organizations supply of munitions were not unlimited, "they are sufficient so that no operation has ever been cancelled or delayed" for lack of weapons.

In addition to the explosives and arms taken from British forces in recurrent arsenal raids, the Irgunists are now manufacturing as a home product "an explosive more powerful and useful."

They denied any connection with recent robberies, such as that in which a gang of 10 Jews a few days ago took $12,000 from the Palestine discount bank.

Claxton Delivers Attack on "Reds"

MONTREAL, March 29—(CP)—An attack on Communism of both the Canadian and Russian varieties was delivered last night by Defence Minister Claxton in a campaign speech for the March 31 federal by-election in Montreal-Cartier.

IN AN ADDRESS, Mr. Claxton called on the electors to support Maurice Hartt, Liberal, as a move against Communism, which he termed the big issue in the election.

"Communists are the same everywhere," said the minister, who sits for the neighboring riding of St. Lawrence-St. George. "They take their orders from Russia. They serve the interests of a foreign power, not their own country."

He gave three reasons for voting against "the Communist" candidate (Labor - Progressive Michael Buhay):

"FIRST, THE spy cases and Pat Sullivan's revelations show that Communists are disloyal to Canada . . .

"Second, Communism denies freedom . . .

"Third, everyone knows that Communism doesn't produce freedom from fear or freedom of speech, but equally there is not the slightest sign anywhere that it can produce freedom from want . . ."

200-Bed Hospital To Aid Arthritics

CALGARY, March 29—(CP)—A 200-bed Roman Catholic hospital for arthritics at a cost of $800,000 will be built in Banff starting sometime next fall, it was learned last night. The hospital will replace the present Mineral Springs Hospital now being operated by sisters of the Order of St. Martha. Six acres have been purchased for the new hospital and it was expected building would get underway this spring. Shortage of materials and labor have made it impossible to start the building until fall. One hundred and fifty beds in the new hospital will be used for the care of arthritics and 50 beds will be devoted to general patients.

Extend Orders Boxcar Control

OTTAWA, March 29—(CP)—Extension of wartime orders aimed at maximum loading and prompt release of scarce freight cars has been ordered for an indefinite period by the board of Transport Commissioners, it was announced last night. The board ordered the continuance after April 1 of orders issued by the transport controller, whose authority ceases March 31 with the expiry of emergency legislation setting up that control.

Ontario Sets Up Car Accident Fund

TORONTO, March 29—(CP)—A bill to give motorists and pedestrians in Ontario more protection against irresponsible motorists was introduced in the Ontario Legislature by Highways Minister Doucett who said the bill provides more protection of this kind than any other legislation in the world. The bill provides for the setting up of an "unsatisfied judgments fund" financed by a fee of not more than $1 a year collected from each purchaser of a driver's or chauffeur's license. The bill provides that victims of hit-and-run accidents may collect damages even where identity of the driver of a "hit-and-run" vehicle is not established.

"Selfish People" Give $80,000,000

HOUSTON, Tex., March 29—(AP)—Hugh Roy and Lillie Cullen, describing themselves as selfish people, gave away $80,000,000 Thursday night. The money will be used to establish a foundation for the purpose of aiding educational, medical and charitable institutions. Cullen said they were giving their money because "we are both that selfish that we wish to see our money spent during our lifetime, so that we may derive great pleasure from it."

Bill Gets 2nd Reading

Advance to Oil Sands Meets with Opposition

"I hope the government has protected itself in its deals with this man who is a promoter, pure and simple, though just how pure and just how simple, is a matter of judgment."

J. PERCY PAGE (Ind-Edmonton), official opposition leader, with these words took a firm stand in the Legislature Friday against approval of a bill which would validate an order-in-council advancing an additional $100,000 to Oil Sands Ltd. and Bitumount Holding Co Ltd.

In his attack on the bill, Mr Page referred to "this man Champion" as the promoter of the scheme.

He questioned the advisability of taking the extra sum from the post-war reconstruction fund rather than from the general revenue fund of the province and questioned as well the wisdom of validating such an order-in-council.

After reviewing the company's financial statements, he felt it was not a proper place for the investment of government money.

NOT ONLY IS there a statement of claim against the company before the courts at the present time, and Mr. Page obtained permission from the house to read some clauses in the statement, but four or five other actions in the court also are pending, he said

He also blamed the government for being late in tabling the bill.

Hon. Lucien Maynard, KC, attorney-general, assumed responsibility for delay in tabling the bill, explaining it had been overlooked in the preparation of other legislation before the session.

He also explained that granting of money by order-in-council had been found necessary in order that construction of the pilot plant for the extraction of oil from tar sands at Bitumount might be completed with least possible delay.

IN DEFENDING the bill, Hon. W. A. Fallow, minister of public works, said the government had decided it was in the interests of the province to demonstrate that the resources represented in the oil sands could be tapped.

Laboratory experiment had shown that extraction of oil was feasible from the oil sands, but the pilot plant at Bitumount had been built to experiment on commercial production.

In answer to a question as to probable cost in the future, Mr. Fallow said he could not tell.

THE GOVERNMENT is concerned only with success of the efforts, he said, pointing out that if it is successful the production should be 10,000 to 15,000 barrels of oil a day.

"I make no predictions about how much it will cost," he said in conclusion, but if it is successful, whatever it costs will be just a drop in the bucket."

The bill was given second reading.

The lifting of the ration on rye will leave only imported Scotch on the list, Mr. King said. Permit holders are limited to one 26-ounce bottle of imported Scotch per month

Asked if the forthcoming action reflected an improvement in rye supplies, Mr. King replied, "no, a decrease in consumption

Beer other liquors and wines were removed from the ration list some months ago.

The public meeting sponsored by the United Nations Society in Canada, Edmonton branch, will be held on Monday, at 8:15 p.m. It was formerly announced that the meeting will be held in the Museum of Fine Arts, but the meeting has now been moved to take place in the Edmonton public library

The topic for the evening will be "The United Nations—Its Rules and Functions." Four executive members of the Edmonton branch, the Rev. T. R. Davies, Mrs. Cora Casselman, Mrs. W. F. Bowker and Prof. A. S. R. Tweedie will speak. A general discussion will follow.

Clause in New Bill:

Seekers of Govt. Jobs Must Have Cabinet O.K.

All appointments to the Alberta Civil Service must be approved by the cabinet under terms of an act respecting the public service which went through committee in the Legislature Friday afternoon

THIS WAS explained by Premier Ernest Manning, who indicated that the new bill made few changes from previous arrangements, except that a director of personnel, whose office is created by the legislation, replaces the present civil service commissioner.

When a government department indicates there is a vacancy on the staff, the director of personnel selects from his list of applicants those best suited for the position These names then are screened by the deputy minister, the minister and the cabinet, before one is approved.

Concern was expressed by Arthur Wray (Ind SC-Banff-Cochrane) over the appointment of former members of the RCMP, who are on pension, to a government department.

THE MEMBER was referring to appointment of two ex-RCMP officers in the fire commissioner's office, Hon. A. J. Hooke, provincial secretary, said, defending the appointments

At the time four appointments were made and all of the men appointed were veterans, three of them of the First Great War and one of the second. Consultations had been held with veteran's representatives, who had approved of all appointments

The nature of the work largely investigation, made the appointment of ex-policemen desirable Mr Hooke said

After supporting Mr Hooke on this statement, J. Harper Prowse asked the government to consider appointment to the civil service commission of a representative of the Canadian Legion, as the largest body of ex-servicemen. The Legion member, he suggested, should be given a similar watching brief to that held by a Legion representative with the federal civil service commission

The bill was held in committee for further consideration

Alberta Issuing New Type Birth Certificate

Portable birth certificates soon will be available to Albertans, Arthur Packford, deputy registrar general for the department of vital statistics, said Saturday. On April 1, the new miniature type of birth certificate, about the size of a national registration card, weather proof, and almost indestructable, will be issued.

MR. PACKFORD said that Alberta was second only to Ontario, in issuing this modern type of certificate, and that eventually all provinces would follow suit. Ontario began issuing them only recently

The new certificate will be produced in the offices of the vital statistics branch, and is fused into a plastic strip under 20,000 pounds pressure, and 300 degrees of heat.

IT WILL BE impossible to remove the card without it being completely destroyed, said Mr Packford, which eliminates the possibilities of changes being made.

Besides being far more handy for carrying, the card will also bear the record number for verification purposes by the family allowance branch.

Mr Packford stated, that there are about 100 of the cards made, all ready to be mailed out Any person desiring one after April 1, may obtain same by applying to the vital statistics office and supplying the necessary information

Ribbing Greets "Future Leader"

Occasional gentle "ribbing" greeted J. Harper Prowse (Army) from time to time in the Legislature Friday, during debate in committee. The "ribbing" was built on a newspaper announcement that his name was being rumored as a possibility for the provincial Liberal leadership.

MR. PROWSE had indicated he supported the farm groups in representations that daylight saving time would be an inconvenience to them.

W. J. Williams (Vet-Edmonton) then seized the opportunity to recall newspaper announcements of the previous day and told the government they should be careful, that Mr. Prowse was trying to wean farmers from the Social Credit cause.

Hon. Lucien Maynard, KC, attorney-general, also made a good-natured reference by pointing out that if it was "good strategy for the future leader of the Liberal party to listen to the farmers, it was equally good strategy for the government to heed them."

The army member himself, speaking during the Friday evening debate, preceded his remarks with the words, "Speaking as a member of this house, and not for a party I do not represent . . ."

New Rotary Club Directors Named

J. A. Tupper, W. G. Skinner, Ross Impey, C. J. Long, Allan McTavish and R. E. Lloyd were elected directors for the coming year at a meeting of the Rotary Club held in the Macdonald hotel Thursday.

JOHN LONGLAND, English educationalist and mountain climber, was speaker at the meeting and described his attempt to climb Mount Everest. As a member of the expedition, he had succeeded in coming within 800 feet of the summit. Violent weather forced the climbers to abandon their objective, the peak.

Its steepness, its peculiar weather and rarified atmosphere, were three main problems confronting future conquerors. But he asserted, Mount Everest could be climbed.

Say Reds Planned "Marxist School"

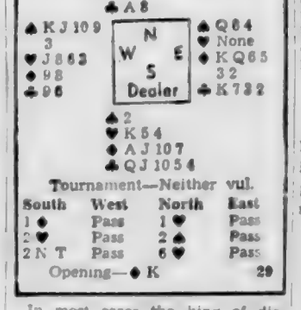

MONTREAL, March 29—(CP)—The Gazette said today in a news-page story that at a meeting last November Communists had discussed plans to establish a "Marxist school" in Montreal, to penetrate trade unions, take over veterans' organizations and elect party members to city council in elections this December. In a prefatory note, the paper described the story as the first of three articles "revealing the exact plans of the Communists for Montreal and the province of Quebec." The paper added that "these aims of the Labor Progressive party are extracted from the confidential report of a 'city conference' held in Montreal last November."

Seven Are Killed As Dwelling Burns

PHILADELPHIA, March 29 (AP)—Seven persons, including two children were believed killed last night in a fire which swept a private dwelling. Fire broke out in the structure shortly before midnight and gutted within 15 minutes, police said.

Several experts in the world championship masters individual tournament arrived at six hearts on today's hand. Only one of them made the contract, and he admitted afterwards that he thought he had taken the wrong line of play even though it did work out well for him.

Opening—♦ K 29

In most cases the king of diamonds was opened and dummy's ace won. The queen of clubs lost to East's king. In some cases the queen of diamonds was led, others led a spade, but in either case declarer was then in his own hand.

He cashed the ace of clubs and now laid down the ace of hearts, hoping to find the heart break no worse than three-one. If both opponents followed, the queen of hearts would be cashed and a heart led over to dummy's king. Then the losing spades could be discarded on the good clubs. But of course the heart suit did not break and it was impossible for declarer to make the hand.

The one North player who did make it did not lay down a trump after winning the third trick with the ace of spades. He cashed the ace of clubs and ruffed a spade in dummy. He led the jack of clubs and when West trumped with the three of hearts, North overtrumped with the seven.

Another spade was ruffed with dummy's five of hearts and the ten of clubs played. If West did not trump, declarer would discard a spade. If West did trump with the six of hearts, North would overtrump with the nine, ruff the last spade with the king of hearts, trump a diamond with the ten of hearts and then pick up West's two remaining trumps. Thus he lost only the club trick.

Would you have tried for the four-heart break which most of the experts agreed was the correct play?

HOW TO WRITE A RADIO PLAY

(2) Setting, Action and Sound Effects

We have told you that, in a radio play, the plot should be simple, the characters few and carefully differentiated, and the dialogue clear and precise.

One of the most difficult things to accomplish is to create a stage setting in the minds of the audience. The setting must be built up first of all by the announcer. He must inform the audience where the scene is laid, and what characters are on the stage when the scene opens. Here again, simplicity is the watchword.

Very often the first few lines of the dialogue will help make the setting vivid. A dialogue like this:

"SHE: My goodness, but I'm hungry.

HE: Well let's look at the menu."

This will help to fix in our minds the announcer's preliminary statement that the scene takes place in a restaurant.

In the older type of radio drama, when there were several scenes, the announcer would take advantage of the interval between scenes (the "break," as it is called) to describe what the next scene was to be and to tell the audience just how much time had elapsed. Nowadays it is considered more effective to have the dialogue tell all this. Suppose five days have elapsed since characters A and B parted in the lobby of the Blank Hotel, at the end of Scene 1. Scene 2 might begin like this:

"A: Well, here we are again in the good old Blank hotel.

B: You'd never think we saw each other last only five days ago."

Most of the action of your play must be told in dialogue. Such sentences as "How dare you smile at me!" "Must you always smoke after breakfast?" "Why are you looking out of the window?" tell the audience the action.

Writers for the radio also utilize the fact that the nearer the speaker stands to the microphone, the louder his voice will sound, whereas it will become fainter as he goes away. This enables the audience to visualize, to a certain extent, the movements of the actors. When the actor is to stand close to the microphone, the stage direction will read: "Up 'Mike.'" When he is to stand farther away, the direction reads: "Away Mike." When a person goes away from the microphone, we say that he "fades out"; when he comes closer to it, he "fades in."

To indicate stage business, sound effects of many kinds are very useful. A clap of thunder, the sound of a siren, a scream—all these help to make the action vivid. Entire books have been written about the production of sound effects. Many sound effects will be beyond your resources. There are a number of sounds, however, that you will be able to produce.

To indicate the closing of a door, simply close a door; to indicate the sound of a whistle, blow a whistle. There are times, however, when it is necessary to "fake" a sound. If a fire is called for in the script, you may produce the sound of crackling flames by crumpling a bit of cellophane in front of the microphone. Wind may be imitated by rubbing two taut pieces of canvas together. To indicate a storm, rattle a sheet of tin or drop some dried peas into a kettle. For a violent hurricane, run an electric massage vibrator over the skin of a drum.

Music is often important. It serves to bridge the gap between the announcer's opening words and the beginning of the play. It serves much the same purpose as the stage curtain. When the music stops, we know that the curtain has gone up; when the music plays again, the curtain has gone down. It is particularly useful to make the break between two scenes.

In giving your play, you should provide musical effects if at all possible. A strong string orchestra, or a violin and piano, or a piano alone would serve the purpose very well. Be sure that your music is in harmony with the atmosphere of your play. Do not begin a play based on a fairy story with a popular dance tune, or play Russian music for a scene that is laid in Scotland.

MLA's Rap Clause New Pension Bill

A clause which provides that civil servants who leave their jobs before they complete five years of service will lose their pension contributions, was sharply criticized in the Legislature Friday afternoon when a bill dealing with pensions for civil servants was before committee of the whole.

ONE REASON given for insertion of this clause was that the public service had become a sort of "training school" for those wishing to go into commercial businesses.

It is hoped the regulation will help to attract into the service persons who will remain in it, after a period of training has been completed, Premier Ernest Manning said.

The Civil Service Association had requested such a clause, Hon. A. J. Hooke, provincial secretary, explained.

Opposition members thought the civil service association favored the clause because sums contributed by those who left before becoming eligible for return of the pension would increase the amount of the pension fund, to the advantage of older civil servants.

THE CLAUSE was held for further consideration.

When the bill first came before the committee, Mr. Hooke told members that its terms had been agreed upon by himself, some deputies and the civil service association, and had been drafted on an actuarial basis by an expert employed for that purpose.

Re-Route Highway For New Bridge

Construction of a new grade, a complete new section of the Edmonton-Calgary highway, will be built to connect with the new bridge across the Red Deer River at Red Deer.

THE CONTRACT for this job was awarded at noon Friday to Doncaster Construction Co., Edmonton, Hon. W. A. Fallow, minister of public works, announced. Price for building 31 miles of the new road is $235,000.

Contract for crushing gravel for the Lethbridge-Taber paving project was awarded at the same time to the McKelvie Construction Co., Calgary, for $94,000, Mr. Fallow said.

"Ind. SC" Correct For Arthur Wray

To describe Arthur Wray, who was elected as Social Credit member for Banff-Cochrane but who has since been ousted from Social Credit benches, as Independent Social Credit, is correct.

THIS IS THE opinion of Hon. Lucien Maynard, KC, attorney-general.

When the Legislature opened Thursday afternoon, Mr. Wray rose on a point of privilege and complained that the prefix "Ind." before the "SC" in brackets which follow his name in newspaper stories was wrong.

Friday morning, however, Mr. Maynard said the member was mistaken and that it was correct to describe him as (Ind. SC-Banff-Cochrane).

Award $15,250 For Man's Death

Damages totalling $15,250 were awarded to Mrs. Ann Brebner, widow of Charles A. J. Brebner, Edmonton, in a judgement handed down Saturday by Mr. Justice Boyd McBride. The damages were awarded against Harold Andreson, city fumigator.

ACTIONS AGAINST Ian D. Shaw, Edmonton board of health inspector, and the City of Edmonton, were dismissed. The jurist, in his written judgement stated that the City of Edmonton might well consider paying the costs incurred by Mr. Shaw in his defence.

The court action arose out of the death of Mr. Brebner from hydrocyanic acid fumes allegedly inhaled when he returned to his suite in a house that had been fumigated by the defendent Andreson.

Mr. Justice McBride said in his judgement that he was satisfied there were lethal concentrations of hydrocyanic acid gas in the deceased's suite immediately prior to his death.

HE REJECTED the submission of defence counsel that death was caused by carbon monoxide fumes allegedly to have lodged in the suite from a stove on which a kettle was boiling when the deceased was found unconcious.

The deceased died in a city hospital shortly after his removal from the suite early in the morning of October 27, 1945.

F. Armour Ford, KC., acted for Mrs. Brebner; Ronald Martland KC. and F. P. Layton for Mr. Shaw; Thomas E. Garside KC. and Allan Macdonald for the City of Edmonton, and J. N. McDonald for Mr. Andreson.

Ont. House Bans "Red Racketeers"

TORONTO, March 29—(CP)—Premier Drew told members of the Ontario Legislature Thursday that rooms in the legislature buildings at Queen's Park were not available for "Communist racketeers." Before orders of the day, the premier rose to condemn use of the building for a meeting called last night by the Consumers Federated Council of Toronto.

HE CALLED the attention of the house to a letter circulated by the council and received by members, inviting the public to a meeting in room 253 in the Legislature Building last night to protest milk prices.

Room 253 is the room recently assigned to the two Labor-Progressive members of the house—J. L. Salsberg of Toronto-St. Andrews, and A. A. MacLeod of Toronto Bellwoods. The letter was signed by Stewart Smith and Dewar Ferguson, "two prominent Communist racketeers," the premier said.

House Building Outlook Better

VANCOUVER, March 29—(CP)—Maj.-Gen. Hugh A. Young, president of the wartime housing and vice-president of the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, had a word of hope for house-hungry Canadians here Thursday. He said, barring strikes and commercial competition, the 1947 target of 80,000 houses would be reached if not passed. General Young, who complained that less than five per cent of houses in Canada were built by architects, wanted some new ideas for houses. "In motors, we have new models every year," he said. "But in houses, there has been the same design for the last 100 years."

Dislikes Verse Of Popular Hymn

PENZANCE, Cornwall, March 29—(CP)—One verse is omitted from the hymn "All Things Bright and Beautiful" in services conducted by Rev. C. H. S. Buckley.

The verse which he considers "no longer appropriate," runs:

"The rich man in his castle
"The poor man at his gate,
"God made them high or lowly
"And ordered their estate."

"Rich men do not live in castles nowadays," said the vicar, "unless they happen to be directors of the National Coal Board."

Prepare Daughters For Marital Career

It is a queer thing that although all mothers want their daughters to marry and expect them to marry, the fewest number of them ever make the slightest effort to prepare their girls for the career that they desire them to follow.

On the contrary, most mothers do everything that is humanly possible to do to unfit their daughters for marriage by spoiling them rotten. They save them from every hardship, they cultivate in them tastes and habits that they will not be able to gratify, and they bring them up to feel that the best of everything should be given to them. In practically every family of moderate means Mother slaves over the cooking stove while the girls play bridge. Mother washes the girl's lingerie so they won't nick the varnish on their red nails. Mother wears hand-me-downs so the girls can have the newest little number in the specialty shops.

NOW WHILE part of Mother's sacrifices are undoubtedly inspired by love of her daughters, the other part is founded on the practical knowledge that fine feathers make fine birds, and that a girl who is dolled up to the limit in pretty clothes has a better chance of catching the roving masculine eye than one who looks even as God made her.

But while mothers breaks their necks to help their daughters get husbands, the great majority of them don't lift a finger to help them keep their husbands. They seem to think that a knowledge of how to be a good wife comes by inspiration and it will be touch-safed a girl on her wedding day; whereas it is the most complicated job on earth and the one that requires a profound understanding of human nature and the subtlety of a diplomat.

Now practically every married woman knows that it took her from ten to 15 years to acquire the art of being a good wife and how to handle a husband without friction, and moreover that she had to learn her lesson in the College of Hard Knocks. So it is amazing that all mothers don't try to save their daughters this grueling experience by teaching them the ropes before they are married.

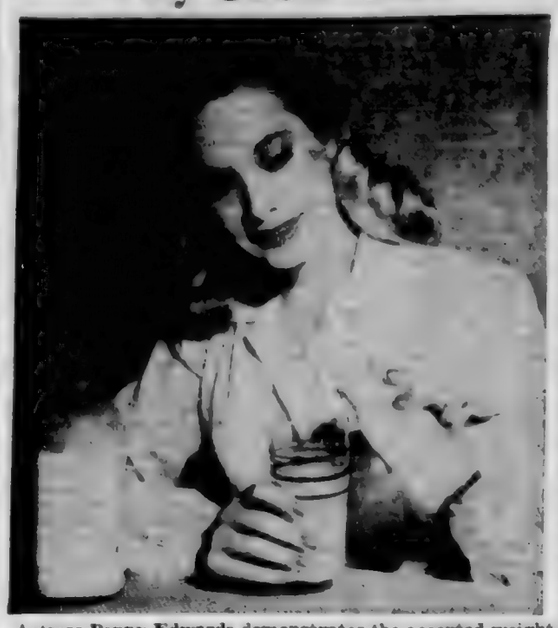

NO MOTHER, for instance, should risk her daughter's happiness by letting her marry before she learns how to cook, yet how few mothers take that precaution against divorce. The first disillusion many a young husband gets is from his wife's inability to make a comfortable home. When she feeds him soggy biscuit and overdone or underdone meat and watery vegetables, it not only sours on his stomach, but on his disposition as well, and wrecks many a marriage that would have been a success if his bride hadn't been a domestic dummy.

Every woman who isn't congenitally feebleminded finds out how to handle a husband, and Heaven only knows why every mother doesn't pass on this invaluable information to her daughters. Why doesn't every mother teach her daughter that the little queen business ends at the altar and that thereafter her husband expects her to be a working partner and pull her part in the boat?

Why doesn't Mother teach her daughter that it is no sign that her husband has ceased to love her because he doesn't pay her flowery compliments and remember every anniversary? It is because he is busy figuring out some way to pay the rent. Why doesn't every mother teach her daughter that she can keep a husband eating out of her hand if she will keep sugar in it?

Any wife can get along with any husband as long as she makes her home-brewed flattery strong enough. Mothers could practically stop divorce if they would only fit their daughters for marriage.

Why Grow Old?

Actress Penny Edwards demonstrates the accepted weight-gaining procedure—half milk and half cream.

By Josephine Lowman

The underweight women who come to my classes are warned to stop exercising before the others in class do.

We do all of our exercises to music, and those who wish to lose or have exercised for a long time continue longer than would be best for the underweight girl. She must avoid fatigue, and is given special instruction in relaxing and deep breathing exercises which she can do at home. Mild exercises are a great help for the would-be gainer. Swimming is splendid, too, and so is walking.

A few months ago I had a pupil who gained seven pounds in four weeks time and added an inch to her bustline and one to the calves of her legs through special exercise. She was given direction as to diet and was told to sleep nine hours a night and to add vitamin B complex to her daily food intake. She was also advised to avoid hurry.

Many underweights overlook the importance of a high vitamin intake in their food. A deficiency can be the underlying cause of underweight. A daily green salad at least one green vegetable and some fresh fruit each day, were prescribed for this pupil. She was also asked to drink half and half ('half milk and half cream') milk. She took this before going to bed at night, at midmorning and mid-afternoon.

When a woman or girl is extremely underweight she should have a physical examination, and then if nothing is wrong, she should put herself on a strict regime of proper food, mild exercise, lots of sleep and a slower pace.

This exercise was used for building up the contour of the calves. Place a couple of large books on the floor, one on top of the other. Stand with your toes on the books, heels hanging over the edge of the books. Again rise high on toes, lower heels. Continue.

If you wish to have my diet for gaining weight, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 41 "Nine Day Gaining Diet," to Josephine Lowman in care of The Edmonton Bulletin.

Your Baby and Mine

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

There are potentialities for danger in every home. Grownups familiar with these dangers, fail to see them in their true light.

This does not mean that a mother should spend her days worrying about the dangers that may befall her child and making him a miserable and errant coward because of them.

She should recognize that the reason we all live relatively safely in the midst of gas, fire, gasoline, with fragile furniture upon which we know enough not to step and with the precarious protection of [illegible] or nothing, at upstairs windows; using knives, forks, electrical apparatus, and on and on, is because we have learned the safe way to live with and use them.

The child should be taught how to deal with dangerous objects and utilities. Prohibitions never work. The child who sets the house afire the moment the mother's back is turned, is the child who has seen everyone around him use fire, but has been forbidden to touch it himself. Then he makes instant use of his opportunities, and being unskilled, these holocausts result about which we read daily.

The same methods should be practiced with every object which adults use so skillfully, and which because of that become fascinating to the child. When he is too young to be educable then the objects should be kept out of reach or the child kept safely in a place where he cannot get at and mis-use them.

But when he is of an age to learn how to turn on gas, light matches, stick plugs in electric fixtures, then he should be shown how to use them safely. Their dangers should be pointed out and the proper way in which to handle them practiced in the presence of the parents until the child can be trusted.

Meanwhile the parents, themselves, should be self-conscious about the way they make use of all these modern privileges, so that the keen-eyed child will never see them do one thing that would be dangerous if he imitated them. No parent wants her child paralized in the face of danger, but be prepared by knowledge and example to act safely and cautiously.

Our leaflet No. 71 "Early Discipline," deals with the child at the investigative age. It may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with this request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of The Edmonton Bulletin.

Minute Make-Ups

No cosmetic "closes the pores." Certain astringent creams, often called "pore" creams, cause the pores to become more active through increased circulation. Other astringents also perform this service. They aid in ridding the skin of excess oil. Cosmetics, properly selected, do much to clear up an oily condition but you must follow carefully the directions for their use.

That shows that weather reports aren't always "all wet."

Jean Drummond Is Married

A wedding linking two well known families took place at Christ Church Saturday afternoon, when Miss Jean Strathalan Drummond, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard E. Drummond, became the bride of George William Gillies, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Ross Gillies, all of Edmonton. The Rev. E. S. Ottley performed the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in heavy white winter satin with short train. The full length veil of embroidered net was caught to her head by a beaded headdress, and held in place by a wreath of orange blossoms which had been worn by the bride's grandmother at her wedding. Sleeves of the dress tapered to lily points over her wrists. To complete her ensemble she carried an arm bouquet of red roses and white narcissus. The bride was unattended.

Wedding music was played by Miss Dorothy Teape.

MRS. DRUMMOND, mother of the bride chose an afternoon gown of turquoise crepe with hat to match. Her corsage was of spring flowers.

Mother of the bridegroom, Mrs. Gillies wore a dress of black crepe, sequin trimmed, and a black hat, with a corsage of red roses pinned to her shoulder.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Yellow daffodils decorated the rooms and the bride's table which was set with a white lace cloth, centred with a four-tier wedding cake and flanked by yellow tapers.

Pouring coffee were Mrs. Clyde Gillies and Miss Eleanor Crawford. C. M. Small proposed the toast to the bride.

Later the couple left on a honeymoon motoring trip to Calgary and Banff. For travelling, the bride chose a three piece suit of light gray heavy crepe, with hat to tone. Accessories of black, and fox furs over her shoulder completed her ensemble.

Mr. and Mrs. Gillies will reside in the North West Territories.

The western hemisphere has supplied 77 per cent of the world's oil production since 1859.

Wife of Athletic Director Claims Family Thrives Here

By DELLIS CLELAND

Like a ray of gay sunshine Virginia Van Vliet, wife of Maury Van Vliet, University of Alberta's physical education department head, relaxed in her spacious and comfortable rose-and-blue toned living room while two of her four small children bounded about with lively enthusiasm.

Just retrieved from a series of dunkings in nature's spring mud puddle. . .the back yard, the youngsters were "Kitten" an ash-blond, brown-eyed question-box of four years, and blonde, merry-eyed Pieter, aged two. Little Maury, red-headed namesake of his famous father, is in grade one at Garneau School. Just seven years old, young Maury is referred to as "mg" by his playful sister and brother. Eight-year old Victoria is at present visiting her grandmother in California.

Mother of the merry crew, and charming young Edmonton matron, Mrs. Van Vliet, the former Virginia Gaddis, was wearing a smart mustard and gray tweed suit, a hammered golden cow-bell on her lapel. With her ensemble she wears a white silk blouse of Lotus hand block, gift from Hawaii of her sister Eleanor.

Possessed with an attractive west coast accent, the sparkling brown-eyed young woman is the perfect team-mate for the university's first "athletic prof". Wife of the man who has stepped up varsity sport to an all-round winning pace, Mrs. Van Vliet has one main ambition since coming to Edmonton one and one-half years ago. She wants to learn to ice-skate. . .a sport she "tried out" this winter with young Pieter. Picking up her young son from icy kisses was a full-time job on that occasion.

About skiing. . .that's another story...and Mrs. Van Vliet hasn't made up her mind yet. But she's convinced one should learn to "adjust" to the climate.

Why anyone would want to retire to Canada's west coast from Edmonton, she doesn't understand. Personally she loves the sunshine here, finds the people friendly, and happily misses the hay fever which plagued her ten-year stay in British Columbia.

The Van Vliets lived at Vancouver while Maury was director of athletics at University of British Columbia, leaving on V-J Day to reside in Edmonton.

A native of Berkeley, California, Mrs. Van Vliet attended the University of Oregon, at Eugene, where she majored in English, received her teaching certificate, met and married her husband, then starring as football quarter back hero. When they moved to Vancouver she found time to contribute a story to "Town and Country," an American publication . . . and discovered she would like to write. One of those ideas marked "someday" in a busy woman's mind.

Some features of the coast city were enjoyable. Such as nearness of the ocean for bathing . . just across the street. . .kept the children happy. The eldest, Vicky, developed a "good crawl" stroke.

Then, too, Vancouver's 'junk' shops" as Mrs. Van Vliet calls them, yielded up some household treasures. For example, the massive dining room table now standing at 10423 Saskatchewan Drive.

But the eight-room house has many treasures, reflecting the love of antiques of its mistress. Color tones in the living room, hall and study are centred around five Chinese ruges, two beige and the remainder a rose shade, which Mrs. Van Vliet's father, Capt. W. P. Gaddis, U. S. Navy brought her from Shanghai.

Of interest is the rare 90-year-old Dresden tea set which Mrs. Van Vliet's grandmother brought over from Austria, and the two straight-backed chairs which were transported from Germany to the New England states in the late 1700's. The chairs journeyed across the American plains in covered wagons, to Iowa.

Receiving favorable comment on her hand blocked blouse, Mrs. Van Vliet remarked that her brother-in-law and sister, Col. H. R. Hallock of the U. S. Army Engineers and Mrs. Hallock witnessed the unforgettable stab-in-the-back at Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, 1941. Living at Schofield Barracks, near Pearl Harbor, her sister watched the first Japanese bombs fall to rocket the United States into World War II. Mrs. Hallock returned to California on the first evacuee ship, and her husband now is stationed at Washington, D. C.

Mysteries and biographies are popular reading with Mrs. Van Vliet, and her activities in Edmonton include membership in the Junior Hospital League and the University Women's Club. She is an active alumnus of the Delta Gamma fraternity.

Favorite of each member of the family is friendly "Varsity" their dog, whose ancestry makes him at least one-quarter wire hair. He "goes over" to classes with Maury each morning.

Jean Patou's Clothes Just Below the Knee

By BARBARA STEPHENSON

PARIS, March 29 (Reuters)—The rule among Paris designers has been to lower the hemline, but Jean Patou is an exception.

Patou's clothes remain just below the knee as last year.

Patou shows fine selection of classic tailleurs which he complements with lingerie blouses, tucked, pleated and embroidered in true exquisite Parisian manner.

Pleats abound for afternoon and evening wear.

Fur is a luxurious high note. Silver fox on a black wool jacket, martin cuffs on huge sleeves of a cream beige coat, and an evening wrap, a cross between a cape and a stole, are featured.

A fine selection of hats sets off the Patou collection. Fabric combined with straw is pointed up with feathers, flowers and bows.

One double-tiered cloche was made of navy blue and white and looked as if two hats were rolled into one. Another straw model was of black felt with a huge brim to which at least two inches was added by a ruffled edge of net.

Miss MacDonald Becomes Bride

Robertson United Church, decorated with spring flowers, was the scene of the wedding Saturday of Miss Dorothea Stephanie MacDonald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. MacDonald, and Henry Laub, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Laub, all of Edmonton. The Rev. Angus J. MacQueen, assisted by the Rev. Dr. C. H. Huestis, grandfather of the bride, performed the ceremony. Prof. John Reymes-King played the wedding music and Mrs. J. C. Nattress sang O Lord Most Holy, during the signing of the register.

GIVEN IN marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white satin trimmed with seed pearls and fashioned with a full skirt finishing in a train and a fitted bodice having a high neckline in a sheer yoke and lily point sleeves. Her finger-tip veil was held in place with a Mary Queen of Scots headdress and she carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses and white hyacinths.

Attending the bride as matron-of-honor was her sister, Mrs. Bruce Willson, who wore a floor-length lime green crepe gown, matching headdress and carried a bouquet of Talisman roses.

BEST MAN was Robert Matheson and ushers were James Greer and Eric MacDonald, brother of the bride.

Mrs. MacDonald chose for her daughter's wedding a black crepe dress with pink accessories and complemented with a corsage of Sweetheart roses.

After the ceremony a reception for 80 guests was held in the drawing room of the Macdonald hotel, where the bride's table was set with white linen and centred with a three-tier wedding cake flanked with vases of spring flowers and lighted tapers. Uncle of the bride, Eric Huestis, proposed the toast to the bride.

Later the couple left by motor for a honeymoon, the bride travelling in a turquoise blue crepe frock, black top coat and black accessories. Mr. and Mrs. MacDonald will reside in Edmonton.

The bride is a well-known skater and the bridegroom is a student at the University of Alberta.

Canadian Dollars Dip 7c Under Par

NEW YORK, (AP)—The Canadian dollar (free rate) Friday closed at a discount of seven percent, or 93 cents to the United States dollar, the lowest level since last July, when Canada pegged its dollar at par with the American. This was a drop of 5 16 of a cent from Thursday's quotation.

Foreign exchange spokesmen said that due to restrictions in the use of the exchange, dealings have been relatively thin and any selling of consequence is immediately reflected in quotations. This "unofficial" market only handles about one percent of the transactions.

The recent depreciation in the currency has been attributed to financial operations by American interests rather than to any basic change of Canadian policy, banking authorities said.

Persistent rumors in Wall Street quarters that a further revaluation was in prospect have been denied by Canadian authorities.

Manitoba Budget Shows Big Surplus

WINNIPEG, (CP)—Premier Stuart Garson, who also is provincial treasurer, announced in his budget speech in the Manitoba legislature Thursday that the province's indicated surplus for the fiscal year ending March 31 will be $4,485,000. It previously had been placed at $1,973,000.

He announced that the provincial government will impose a two-cent tax on gasoline when the federal government gives up its present three-cent tax March 31, making a total of nine cents provincial tax on this commodity but reducing the net tax by one cent.

Profits of the liquor control board are estimated at $6,500,000, a record and $750,000 more than in 1945-46.

Further reduction of $648,000 in the province's public debt is shown which now stands at $108,246,000.

A surplus of $30,000 is anticipated for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1948 during which expenditures are estimated at $29,465,000 and revenue $29,495,000.

A 10-year program to restore existing highways to pre-war standards, rebuild worn out highways and construct new ones is planned.

West Coast Ban On Japs Remains

By Dick Sanburn

(From The Journal's Ottawa Bureau)

OTTAWA.—Japanese will not be permitted to return to the Pacific coast, or engage in fishing there for at least one year, it was stated in the commons on Thursday night.

Replying to questions by Howard Green, Prog. Cons., Vancouver South, statements were made by Veterans Affairs Minister Mackenzie, Labor Minister Mitchell, and State Secretary Gibson.

Mr. Green was told that no Japs will be allowed to return to the coast, that the evacuation policy will be continued, and that Japs will not be permitted to engage in fishing. Those who wish to return to Japan will be assisted to do so.

Final settlement of Japanese property, held by the enemy property custodian will be completed within the year, the government expects.

Mr. Mackenzie said that most BC members were in agreement about the Japs, and it was not just a matter of the one year life of this emergency legislation. It was he insisted, a matter of giving security to British Columbia people "for five or ten years."

Say Indians Lack School Facilities

OTTAWA, (CP)—Between 12,000 and 15,000 Canadian Indians live in districts without educational facilities, Bernard F. Neary, director of Indian education and welfare, Thursday told the joint parliamentary committee on the Indian act.

Questioned by G. F. Castleden, CCF, Yorkton, Mr. Neary estimated 400 new classrooms would be required to provide adequate facilities.

Mr. Castleden said the United States government spent between $115 and $218 per capita annually. Canada appropriated "something less than $46."

MOUSEMANSHIP

THERE had been considerable discussion about mouseback riding among several of the Teenie Weenies. The Dunce was mainly responsible for most of the talk, for he had unexpectedly found a piece of cheese and cheese can easily be converted into mouseback rides. The Dunce had been spending his cheese on mouseback riding and he now considered himself a champion mouseback rider. He boasted a great deal and that brought on long and heated arguments among various Teenie Weenies. The Teenie Weenie Cowboy is a fine mouseman, but he never entered into the arguments, although the Dunce said some rather slighting things about his riding. The Dunce boasted so much the Cowboy finally agreed to a mouseback race. Two very fast mice, who lived in the cellar of one of the big houses near the Teenie Weenie village, were chosen for mounts by the two little mousemen and arrangements were made for the race.

The race was to be held in the cellar where the mice lived. One morning the Dunce and the Cowboy, carrying their tiny mouse saddles and followed by a number of the Teenie Weenies, went to the cellar to hold the race. On his stout little shoulders, the Turk carried a huge piece of cheese nearly as big as an acorn. This was to be given as the prize to the mouse that won the race.

A course was laid out around the cellar and over an old scrubbing brush that lay on the floor near some bottles. The mice seemed satisfied after sniffing the cheese and they allowed the Dunce and the Cowboy to put on the saddles and bridles. The riders were to race three times around the course and the first mouse to jump the scrubbing brush for the third time was to be the winner. Each mouse was confident that he would win the cheese.

When the riders were ready the Cook gave a signal and the mice leaped off around the course. The first two times around, the mice leaped the scrubbing brush almost together, but on the last jump the Dunce's mouse cleared the brush first by half a tail's length and he was declared the winner.

The Dunce boasted constantly after the race, but all that stopped in a few days when a mouse he was riding ran away with him. The Dunce was thrown off the mouse's back and considerably banged up. He has been rather meek since then and now there is no more boasting about mousemanship. Because the Cowboy is too modest to go around telling everybody that he is the champion rider in the Teenie Weenie village.
